MISS HELEN L. COPE

The book of Time has closed for Adams county's foremost and most highly esteemed woman educator. Miss Helen L. Cope. Tomorrow afternoon men and women and children in all walks of life will pay their final tribute to her memory. . . a memory that will linger long after the present generation has answered its final summons.

Some mortals accomplish widely heralded worldly things and to their memory are erected shafts of bronze or marble as lasting tributes.

Miss Cope is not included in this group. It is not likely that her name will be widely acclaimed, outside the realm of a small area. But her words and deeds, her loving affection for young America and her tireless devotion to education will have a lasting effect upon hundreds and hundreds of men and women who were privileged to have had her as their instructor.

Not for pecuniary gain or profit; not for worldly acclaim or the plaudits of the assembly did Miss Cope devote more than forty years to the profession of teaching. She was of the old school and her theories and practices were beyond criticism. She taught school because she loved it. She was a strict disciplinarian but her pupils love her. She tolerated no brassiness or trifling interest and her pupils respected her for it.

She was held in high esteem by all who knew her. The fruits of her harvest were reflected in the success achieved by those she taught.

Although she retired from active practice she never retired her interest, love and affection for the students of Gettysburg. Their pleasures reached her enjoyment. Their sorrows were her bereavement. Their success was her goal.

Now that she has gone before, her influence will be felt by all of us who are left behind, even by those who were not privileged to be listed among her close acquaintances. Her shaft of tribute will be measured by the success of those she taught and with whom she associated. Miss Cope would want it that way.

Dr. Ralph D. Heim spoke on "The Relationship of the Troop to the Sponsoring Institution" at Monday evening's meeting of the Boy Scout leadership training course held at the fire engine house. D. D. Crisp, area scout executive, presided at the session.

RED CROSS FUND GROWING LARGER

The Adams County War Relief campaign reached $26,984.41 today with an additional $1,200 scheduled to be turned over to the county office this afternoon.

The $1,200 is the amount collected in the theaters of the county during the last week and is more than twice the amount collected by similar collections held last year.

On Friday the county topped its quota of $26,500 and contributions have been coming in fairly regularly ever since. With only $1,800 to go to reach $30,000 after the theater amounts are in, heads of the drive believe final donations may reach that figure.

By RICHARD McMURRAY
Associated Press War Editor
Waves of British bombers battered Budapest last night in direct tactical support of Russian armies surging swiftly into the Balkans.

Soviet advances 11 miles into Rumania and to the very portals of the expanded Hungarian border have tangled the communications of routed German armies of the south so thoroughly that their main supply line has been pushed back behind the Carpathians. That line runs through the Hungarian capital and last night the rail center at Budapest was cratered anew by heavy and medium bombers, in fiery sequence to the first massive American assault in daylight yesterday.

Pound Many Targets

Steel works, arms factories and the tracks were battered last night; five great fires were kindled; one large explosion was set off. The U. S. bombers yesterday had struck the rail center, an aircraft components factory, an airfield, a refinery, barracks and other targets. The Americans destroyed 26 German planes and lost 13 in operations in Hungary, Italy and Yugoslavia.

Russian troops across the Prut river were within eight miles of the rail center of Iasi (Jassy) which lies 120 miles north of the Danube delta.

More important, the First Ukrainian Army of Marshal Zhukov had killed 183,310 Germans and captured 24,950 in four March weeks and had trapped the tattered remnants of 15 divisions in a "kettle" just north of the middle Dniester around Skala, Moscow announced. Seven were tank divisions. Enormous booty was taken.

Another Zhukov wing scooped up 80 towns on the outer approaches of Lwow in old Poland, one of Europe's major rail centers. Nearest troops were 45 miles away. Another 100 settlements were taken as the siege arc was tightened around Odessa on the Black Sea. The Russians were 19 miles away.

The figures announced by Moscow raised Russian estimates of German killed and captured to 537,160 in the boiling offensive which has all but cleared mother Russia of the hated German invaders. Radio Moscow called on the Rumanians to surrender at once; the Bulgar radio said Rumanian troops were capitulating "by the thousands" and fighting German punitive forces.

Use Italian Troops

The U. S. Foreign Economic Administration declared Germany could hardly continue the war if she lost the Balkans with their oil, chrome and food.

The Germans put Italian Fascist troops of the Mussolini rump regime into the line around the Anzio beachhead but only minor patrol and artillery action was reported on any front in Italy.

The Finnish parliament again considered Russian peace terms but a decision likely will be delayed until after Easter. Finns in Stockholm said the terms were as harsh as ever and more precise and Swedish newspapers expressed little hope that the Baltic state would quit the war.

Efficient Work Wins Pay Increase

Miss Thelma P. Kroushore, Gettysburg R. 1, was one of 29 employees of the old-age and survivors' insurance bureau of the Social Security Board at Baltimore who were awarded annual wage increases ranging from $60 to $200 for "outstanding performance and valuable suggestions," it was announced today by John J. Corson, national director of the bureau which keeps social security accounts for nearly 75,000,000 persons.

Miss Kroushore, an employee of the "report processing section" of the bureau was selected for unusual honor by Mr. Corson who stated that she "has been able to turn out 492 cards an hour, or 4,108 daily, the highest consistent average ever maintained in the verifying work."

4 RECEIVE MEDALS

Four members of the permanent part at the 55th College Training Detachment at Gettysburg college were awarded good conduct medals by Captain John R. Coshey. One of the men received his award in absentia, having been transferred to Maxwell Field last Friday. The men cited include: Sergeants James B. Barnhill, Bernie E. Cerkin, Nathaniel H. Lipshitz and William B. Chapman.

The book of Time has closed for Adams county's foremost and most highly esteemed woman educator. Miss Helen L. Cope, tomorrow afternoon men and women and children in all walks of life will pay their final tribute to her memory. . . a memory that will linger long after the present generation has answered its final summons.

Some mortals accomplish widely heralded worldly things and to their memory are erected shafts of bronze or marble as lasting tributes.

Miss Cope is not included in this group. It is not likely that her name will be widely acclaimed, outside the realm of a small area. But her words and deeds, her loving affection for young America and her tireless devotion to education will have a lasting effect upon hundreds and hundreds of men and women who were privileged to have had her as their instructor.

Not for pecuniary gain or profit; not for worldly acclaim or the plaudits of the assembly did Miss Cope devote more than forty years to the profession of teaching. She was of the old school and her theories and practices were beyond criticism. She taught school because she loved it. She was a strict disciplinarian but her pupils loved her. She tolerated no brassiness or trifling interest and her pupils respected her for it.

She was held in high esteem by all who knew her. The fruits of her harvest were reflected in the success achieved by those she taught.

Although she retired from active practice she never retired her interest, love and affection for the students of Gettysburg. Their pleasures echoed her enjoyment. Their sorrows were her bereavement. Their success was her goal.

Now that she has gone before, her influence will be felt by all of us who are left behind, even by those who were not privileged to be listed among her close acquaintances. Her shaft of tribute will be measured by the success of those she taught and with whom she associated. Miss Cope would want it that way.

Dr. Ralph D. Heim spoke on "The Relationship of the Troop to the Sponsoring Institution" at Monday evening's meeting of the Boy Scout leadership training course held at the fire engine house. D. D. Crisp, area scout executive, presided at the session.

SEEK NEW PLAN TO DETERMINE FARMER DRAFT

Establishment of a new "yardstick" for use in determining deferments for Pennsylvania farmers of military age was urged Monday night at a conference of more than 200 representatives of draft boards and war boards from 21 southeastern counties, including Adams, according to The Associated Press. The conference was held at Harrisburg.

The meeting was called by State Selective Service headquarters to discuss a revised system affecting agriculture. Final decisions were delayed pending receipt by state headquarters of the new regulations.

Up to Local Boards

Selective Service last week gave local boards complete authority over farm deferments, discontinuing requirements that farmers must have produced 16 units of foodstuffs in 1943 to be eligible for deferment.

Capt. William I. Markil, of State Draft headquarters, who presided over the meeting, said the consensus was that some kind of yardstick be provided and that selective service is willing "provided it doesn't conflict with new regulations when they are received," according to the AP.

Clyde Zehner, chairman of the Federal Department of Agriculture's State War board, announced that county war boards would continue co-operating with local boards under the new farm system and called for a uniform system of determining deferments to avoid confusion.

Countians at Meeting

Members of both Adams county draft boards and the county War Board who attended the session include: M. E. Knouse, chairman; Dr. R. D. Wickerham and John Bream, of the Gettysburg selective service board. The New Oxford selective service board's representatives included William Yingling, chairman; J. Francis Yake, Jr., Esq., attorney; Mrs. Laura Freed and Amy Moore, clerks.

Representing the War board at the meeting were its chairman, Harrison F. Snyder, D. E. Hess, Roy Weaver, M. T. Hartman, Richard C. Lighter and C. A. Cluck and secretary Mrs. Lloyd McLaughlin. Jennings Collins represented the Adams county Emergency Farm Labor committee.

Trainers Of Fliers

William Howard Speakman, Jr., was born February 19, 1911, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Speakman, Sr., of Absecon, N. J. He attended Harrisburg grade and junior high schools and graduated from John Harris high in 1930. He attended the University of Pennsylvania for a year.

At one time he was the Central Pennsylvania representative of the Aircraft Owners and Pilots association and is a member of the National Aeronautics association and the Central Pennsylvania Pilots club. He is also a member of the Gettysburg Lodge of Elks.

Speakman enlisted in Air Corps Enlisted Reserve July 18, 1942.

In September, 1940, he took private lessons and soloed September 26, 1940. He did considerable flying in his leisure time while employed as a room clerk at the Penn-Harris hotel, Harrisburg.

He was a member, with the rank of captain, of the first organized wing of the Civil Air Patrol which was formed at Lancaster. He had accumulated more than 200 hours flying time when he enlisted in the Air Corps reserve as a student instructor. He graduated from the Civilian Pilot Training instructor's course at Wilson Airport, Carlisle, September 23, 1942 with a commercial license and flight instructor's rating.

Yank Bombers Raid Bucharest

Naples, April 4 (AP)—U. S. heavy bombers raided Bucharest today, following up yesterday's smashing attack against Budapest.

Fortresses and Liberators struck at military targets in the Rumanian capital. They attacked "in considerable strength" under escort of Lightning and Thunderbolt fighter planes, an Allied headquarters announcement said.

It was the first attack of the war on Bucharest.

RED CROSS FUND GROWING LARGER

The Adams County War Relief campaign reached $26,984.41 today with an additional $1,200 scheduled to be turned over to the county office this afternoon.

The $1,200 is the amount collected in the theaters of the county during the last week and is more than twice the amount collected by similar collections held last year.

On Friday the county topped its quota of $26,500 and contributions have been coming in fairly regularly ever since. With only $1,800 to go to reach $30,000 after the theater amounts are in, heads of the drive believe final donations may reach that figure.

By RICHARD McMURRAY

Associated Press War Editor
Waves of British bombers battered Budapest last night in direct tactical support of Russian armies surging swiftly into the Balkans.

Soviet advances 11 miles into Rumania and to the very portals of the expanded Hungarian border have tangled the communications of routed German armies of the south so thoroughly that their main supply line has been pushed back behind the Carpathians. That line runs through the Hungarian capital and last night the rail center at Budapest was cratered anew by heavy and medium bombers, in fiery sequence to the first massive American assault in daylight yesterday.

Pound Many Targets

Steel works, arms factories and the tracks were battered last night; five great fires were kindled; one large explosion was set off. The U. S. bombers yesterday had struck the rail center, an aircraft components factory, an airfield, a refinery, barracks and other targets. The Americans destroyed 26 German planes and lost 13 in operations in Hungary, Italy and Yugoslavia.

Russian troops across the Prut river were within eight miles of the rail center of Iasi (Jassy) which lies 120 miles north of the Danube delta.

More important, the First Ukrainian Army of Marshal Zhukov had killed 183,310 Germans and captured 24,950 in four March weeks and had trapped the tattered remnants of 15 divisions in a "kettle" just north of the middle Dnieper around Skala, Moscow announced. Seven were tank divisions. Enormous booty was taken.

Another Zhukov wing scooped up 80 towns on the outer approaches of Lwow in old Poland, one of Europe's major rail centers. Nearest troops were 45 miles away. Another 100 settlements were taken as the siege are was tightened around Odessa on the Black Sea. The Russians were 19 miles away.

The figures announced by Moscow raised Russian estimates of German killed and captured to 337,160 in the boiling offensive which has all but cleared mother Russia of the hated German invaders. Radio Moscow called on the Rumanians to surrender at once; the Bulgar radio said Rumanian troops were capitulating "by the thousands" and fighting German punitive forces.

Use Italian Troops

The U. S. Foreign Economic Administration declared Germany could hardly continue the war if she lost the Balkans with their oil, chrome and food.

The Germans put Italian Fascist troops of the Mussolini rump regime into the line around the Anzio beachhead but only minor patrol and artillery action was reported on any front in Italy.

The Finnish parliament again considered Russian peace terms but a decision likely will be delayed until after Easter. Finns in Stockholm said the terms were as harsh as ever and more precise and Swedish newspapers expressed little hope that the Baltic state would quit the war.

Efficient Work Wins Pay Increase

Miss Thelma P. Kroushour, Gettysburg R. 1, was one of 29 employees of the old-age and survivors' insurance bureau of the Social Security Board at Baltimore who were awarded annual wage increases ranging from $60 to $200 for "outstanding performance and valuable suggestions." It was announced today by John J. Corson, national director of the bureau which keeps social security accounts for nearly 75,000,000 persons.

Miss Kroushour, an employee of the "report processing section" of the bureau was selected for unusual honor by Mr. Corson who stated that she "has been able to turn out 492 cards an hour, or 4,108 daily, the highest consistent average ever maintained in the verifying work."

4 RECEIVE MEDALS

Four members of the permanent part at the 55th College Training Detachment at Gettysburg college were awarded good conduct medals by Captain John R. Coshey. One of the men received his award in absentia, having been transferred to Maxwell Field last Friday. The men cited include: Sergeants James B. Barnhill, Bernie E. Cerkin, Nathaniel H. Lipshitz and William B. Chapman.

HUNGARY PAYING FOR NAZI HELP; BUDAPEST IS HIT

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press War Analyst)
Less than a fortnight ago Secretary of State Hull urged Hungary not to submit to the Nazi lash but to offer firm resistance to Hitler's invasion; yesterday she began to pay for her failure to take this good advice when a great force of American bombers attacked her capital city of Budapest.

That was our first raid on this ancient Danubian port, but it's likely to be far from the last, as witness the further onslaught by Allied bombers last night. Budapest is the key position for Hitler's Balkan operations. Readers will find it worth watching.

Even before the war this city contained the majority of Hungary's industries, and the Nazi chief has moved many of his own factories there since the Allied air fleets made things too hot in the Reich. Budapest also is the junction of all the railways in the country, and is one of the most important ports on the Danube, which provides transportation from the Black sea clear to Germany.

Wanted to Quit
Actually Hungary was eager to quit the war more than a year ago. But she feared to try to get out by herself. She hoped for an Allied invasion of the Balkans to help her turn the trick. That is, she hoped Americans or British would invade—not the Russians, whom the Nazi stooges fear.

Hungary must be pretty jittery, what with the Hitlerites swaggering about her towns, and Red forces almost at her borders. Her personal experience with Communism wasn't a happy one. That was in 1919 when the notorious Bela Kun established a short-lived Soviet after a blood-bath.

While Hungarians on the whole have no love for the Nazis, the Fuehrer has important support. He fairly poured money into Hungary and when I was there just after the Munich conference he already had half a million adherents. His early victories in the war swelled his following. These people are of course rabidly anti-Communist.

Stormed Stalingrad
Then Hungary has another reason to be uneasy. Back at the start of the war when the Nazi giant was slobering and gorging himself with his bloody meal, Hungary rushed in and grabbed a piece of her stricken little neighbor, Czechoslovakia. That was Slavic territory and so had racial affinity with Russia. Four months ago Czechoslovakia and the Soviet Union signed a pact of mutual assistance, which can scarcely add to Hungary's ease of mind.

Possibly more to the point, Hungary flung a quarter million men against Stalingrad in the hour of that city's great agony (and got the most of them killed). Maybe Moscow will overlook that, but Hungarian Nazis can't be expected to think it likely.

Chance for Revolt
So on the whole Budapest has plenty of reason to hide her face as the Red legions thrust into the Balkan peninsula. Moscow's announcement that the Soviet Union has no territorial designs on Rumania (which also has been fighting Russia) is calculated to assure Hungary that the Axis satellites will be treated fairly. However, one suspects her sins are heavy on her conscience.

In any event, Hitler's Hungarian base must be nullified to further the Allied conquest of the Balkans. Part of that can be done by bombing, but the job can't be finished without either invasion by land troops or a revolution.

There's always a chance that Secretary Hull's plea, coupled with the bombing and the Russian advance, may yet produce a revolt of loyal Hungarians against the Nazi minority.

EXTRA GAS FOR WAR GARDENERS
Effective April 3, extra rations of gasoline for driving to Victory Gardens will again be available with certain limitations, it was announced today by the OPA.

"Victory gardeners cannot be permitted to use gasoline unless they are making real contribution to the food supply," the OPA said.

Gas for 300 Miles

ROTARIANS PICK SIX DIRECTORS AT SESSION HERE

Walter T. Africa, I. Z. Musselman, Dr. C. Harold Johnson, Edmund W. Thomas, H. Wilbur Baker and G. Henry Roth were elected directors of the local Rotary club at its regular meeting Monday evening at the YWCA. The directors will meet during the coming week to elect officers who will be announced at next Monday's session of the club.

Milo Gallinger, a member of the club, spoke on his work of building hand weaving looms and accessories under the name of Gallinger Crafts at Guernsey and of the work of his wife in weaving and teaching and editing craft magazines. He illustrated his talk with a display of various types of work done on hand looms.

The Gallingers started their craft work in Wisconsin in 1931, he said, as one of 14 projects begun by a rich philanthropist in that state. As the projects became self-supporting they were turned over to the managers. The Gallinger crafts project was turned over to Mr. Gallinger in 1938. Last year the Gallingers moved to Pennsylvania. Through the interest of the State Planning Board, they learned of Adams county's background and came here, setting up a loom manufacturing shop in the former country club house at Guernsey and establishing a school at the former home of O. H. Benson at Guernsey.

Annual Conferences
He showed the use of cellophane as a textile which was developed by the Gallinger crafts five years ago but which has been discontinued for the duration of the war because of the shortage of materials. Most of his work now is supplying looms of institutions to be used in occupational therapy. Mr. Gallinger said.

Mrs. Gallinger, who annually conducts the National Weaving Conference, is planning to hold the conference next summer in New York city, Mr. Gallinger said. In the future, however, the conferences will probably be held in Gettysburg, he added.

President Frederick Tilberg presided at the sessions with 25 members present.

EASTER SPEAKER
Prof. Donald R. Heiges, of the faculty of Gettysburg college, will be the guest minister Sunday at the Easter services at the Arendtsville Trinity Lutheran church, it was announced today.

HUNGARY PAYING FOR NAZI HELP; BUDAPEST IS HIT

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press War Analyst)

Less than a fortnight ago Secretary of State Hull urged Hungary not to submit to the Nazi lash but to offer firm resistance to Hitler's invasion; yesterday she began to pay for her failure to take this good advice when a great force of American bombers attacked her capital city of Budapest.

That was our first raid on this ancient Danubian port, but it's likely to be far from the last, as witness the further onslaught by Allied bombers last night. Budapest is the key position for Hitler's Balkan operations. Readers will find it worth watching.

Even before the war this city contained the majority of Hungary's industries, and the Nazi chief has moved many of his own factories there since the Allied air fleets made things too hot in the Reich. Budapest also is the junction of all the railways in the country, and is one of the most important ports on the Danube, which provides transportation from the Black sea clear to Germany.

Wanted to Quit
Actually Hungary was eager to quit the war more than a year ago. But she feared to try to get out by herself. She hoped for an Allied invasion of the Balkans to help her turn the trick. That is, she hoped Americans or British would invade—not the Russians, whom the Nazi stooges fear.

Hungary must be pretty jittery, what with the Hitlerites swaggering about her towns, and Red forces almost at her borders. Her personal experience with Communism wasn't a happy one. That was in 1919 when the notorious Bela Kun established a short-lived Soviet after a blood-bath.

While Hungarians on the whole have no love for the Nazis, the Fuehrer has important support. He fairly poured money into Hungary and when I was there just after the Munich conference he already had half a million adherents. His early victories in the war swelled his following. These people are of course rabidly anti-Communist.

Stormed Stalingrad
Then Hungary has another reason to be uneasy. Back at the start of the war when the Nazi giant was slobbering and gorging himself with his bloody meal, Hungary rushed in and grabbed a piece of her stricken little neighbor, Czechoslovakia. That was Slavic territory and so had racial affinity with Russia. Four months ago Czechoslovakia and the Soviet Union signed a pact of mutual assistance, which can scarcely add to Hungary's ease of mind.

Possibly more to the point, Hungary flung a quarter million men against Stalingrad in the hour of that city's great agony (and got the most of them killed). Maybe Moscow will overlook that, but Hungarian Nazis can't be expected to think it likely.

Chance for Revolt
So on the whole Budapest has plenty of reason to hide her face as the Red legions thrust into the Balkan peninsula. Moscow's announcement that the Soviet Union has no territorial designs on Rumania (which also has been fighting Russia) is calculated to assure Hungary that the Axis satellites will be treated fairly. However, one suspects her sins are heavy on her conscience.

In any event, Hitler's Hungarian base must be nullified to further the Allied conquest of the Balkans. Part of that can be done by bombing, but the job can't be finished without either invasion by land troops or a revolution.

There's always a chance that Secretary Hull's pleas, coupled with the bombing and the Russian advance, may yet produce a revolt of loyal Hungarians against the Nazi minority.

Dumping Of Oil On Street Is Banned

A warning that deliberate and habitual violators of the borough ordinance prohibiting the dumping of oil on town streets and alleys will be prosecuted came from borough council Monday evening after one such violation, already under investigation by the police department, was discussed around the council table.

Chicago, April 4 (AP)—The Republican party will go to farmer voters during the coming campaign with a promise to curtail governmental participation in the nation's economic life if it follows recommendations of a major portion of organized agriculture.

BUCKY WALTERS APPEARS READY FOR BIG YEAR

By TED MEIER

New York, April 4 (AP)—Bucky Walters, who helped pitch the Cincinnati Reds to a National League pennant in 1939 and 1940, but cost them a possible chance for the 1943 flag through a bit of tomfoolery, is ready for a big 1944 season.

The Ex-Phils third sacker turned twirler turned his ankle bounding over hurdles in spring training a year ago. Cleveland, April 4 (AP)—With $10,500 awaiting the winner, Cleveland's Barons and the Buffalo Bisons face off at the Arena tonight in the first game of a four-out-of-seven playoff series for the American hockey league title.

The Barons won the league percentage championship during the regular season and eliminated the Hershey Bears to gain the finals. The Bisons are the defending champions and gained the finals by whipping Indianapolis.

Cleveland's regular goal tender, Paul Gauthier, will guard the nets tonight. Gauthier sustained a leg injury March 5 and returned to action only last Saturday when the Barons eliminated Hershey by a 4 to 1 count.

Angott Favored To Beat Perry

Washington, April 4 (AP)—Anvil Aaron Perry, the sensational Washington boxing prospect with a lethal punch in either hand, takes the toughest test of his young career tonight in a bout with Sammy Angott, former National Boxing Association lightweight champion and a veteran ring campaigner.

The boys will come out as welterweights. Angott, who lost to Juan Zurita last month, claims he was weakened by reducing his poundage to the lightweight standard.

Angott ruled about a 2-1 favorite with the betting gentry.
Promoter Goldie Ahearn predicted a capacity crowd of between 6,000 and 8,000 would pay upwards of $30,000 to see the bout.

Maroons Held First Track Drill Outside

The Maroon squad has been working out indoors for some time and indications point to a fairly strong squad.

MILLER TAKES 26TH STRAIGHT BOUT VICTORY

Pittsburgh, April 4 (AP)—In less than a year after he came out of retirement and started on the fistie comeback trail, lightweight Billy Miller today was on the threshold of boxing's big money circle.

The Lawrenceville Irishman chalked up his twenty-sixth consecutive victory last night when he was awarded a split decision over class Lulu Costantino of New York in a ten-rounder at the Gardens.

The majority of the ringsiders thought Costantino—a 2-1 favorite—an easy winner. The two judges, however, voted for Miller, while the referee gave the "New Yorker an edge."

Stormy Finish

Costantino forced the fight in the early rounds, with Miller changing from his back-peddling, dancing tactics to dominate the fight from the sixth round on.

Miller, under the wing of the veteran Harry Pittler, started his comeback last August, winning a third round T.K.O. over the Puerto Rican, Jose Domingo Rosa.

He began to attract attention after defeating Benny Goldberg of Detroit. Goldberg had just fought Manuel Ortiz for the title, and Miller earned acclaim by taking every round from Goldberg with ease.

Ruby Garcia, the Cuban who Miller defeated twice, termed the Lawrenceville boy "the strongest fellow I ever fought—and that includes Bob Montgomery, Sammy Angott and Benny Goldberg."

Pep, Francis Bout Is Red Cross Benefit

Hartford, Conn., April 4 (AP)—Even the fighters, the referee, other officials and members of the working press will pay their way through the gate tonight when Willie Pep of Hartford, recognized in New York as world's featherweight champion, meets Leo Francis of Panama here in a non-title ten rounder.

Every cent taken in, except taxes, goes to the Red Cross.

Confesses Murder Of School Girl

Detroit, April 4 (AP)—Sheriff Andrew C. Baird announced today that Richard Vincent, 23, a gasoline station attendant, had confessed the slaying on March 27, of 14-year-old Joyce Raulston, Detroit school girl whose body was found on a municipal dump.

Baird and Russell C. Gregory, chief of county detectives, quoted Vincent as saying the killing occurred during a quarrel in his automobile. He said he first met Joyce in a gasoline station adjoining the tourist camp at Warren avenue west and Telegraph road where she had spent the week-end.

Her body, beaten and stabbed, was found on the dump on the morning of March 28.

Strike In Dispute Over Flag Ended

Aliquippa, Pa., April 4 (AP)—A one-day strike that closed the entire seamless tube mill of the Jones & Laughlin steel corporation was ended today after about 800 employees voted to return to their jobs.

The strike, termed unauthorized by the United Steelworkers of America (CIO) grew out of a dispute over removal of an American flag the workers had erected on a bracket under a crane runway. A foreman explained he ordered the flag moved to another location because it was in danger of becoming spotted with oil.

A company spokesman said the walkout resulted in the loss of about 1,000 tons production of bomb and shell bodies.

Bertelli Picked By Ted Collins

New York, April 4 (AP)—Ted Collins, owner of the Boston franchise in the National Professional Football league, said today that the other club owners in the loop had given him first selection in the grid draft and that his opening choice would be Angelo Bertelli, Notre Dame quarterback of last fall.

"My football team will play the T-formation and Bertelli is the best T-formation quarterback I ever have seen," explained Collins, "and besides that, he is from the Boston area."

Bertelli now is in the Marines and unless the war ends unexpectedly will not be available when the Yanks, nickname for the club whose franchise Collins acquired at the league's midwinter meeting, takes the field this fall.

FIFTH OF U. S. IS PUBLIC OWNED

Washington, April 4 (AP)—Ninety-odd government agencies share jurisdiction over approximately 800,000,000 acres of public lands, including roughly one-fifth of continental United States, Rep. Peterson, D-Fla., said today, and Congress will be asked to adopt a policy for returning much of this acreage to the tax rolls.

The House Public Lands committee is completing a nine-months study of the problem, Chairman Peterson disclosed in an interview, and will recommend localities be reimbursed on a basis of tax losses and land valuation, except for lands of strictly governmental nature, such as those used for postoffices, custom houses and similar purposes.

"So long as any agency retains title to such (surplus) lands, it will be responsible for paying taxes or service charges in lieu of taxes, and this policy would encourage all agencies to get busy and dispose of all property not absolutely needed," he asserted.

Bullet Athlete Joins Athletics

Ex-Policeman Shot Fleeing With Tires

Seranton, Pa., April 4 (AP)—A former Seranton policeman was in critical condition today from a bullet wound received at the scene of a tire store burglary.

The man, Walter Hunsinger, 46, was shot in the back Sunday by Patrolman Evan Evans, the patrolman said.

Evans said he fired when he saw Hunsinger leaving a tire store early yesterday morning carrying two tires. Hunsinger disregarded Evans' order to halt, and instead began to run, Evans reported.

POLICE PROBE

New Bethlehem, Pa., April 4 (AP)—Police continued an investigation today into the death of 10-year-old James Hoffman after a coroner's jury reported the youth suffered a blow on the head "at the hands of an unknown assailant." The boy's body was found Saturday in the basement of his home.

LIGHTWEIGHT CIRCUIT SLOWS

New York, April 4 (AP)—It looks as if the lightweight championship merry-go-round has broken down, for a couple of months at least, with its principal running gears scattered widely.

But the 135-pound carousel currently is the best-paying amusement on midtown's midway, and the chances are that with a few replacements and some tinkering it will be off soon on another dizzy whirl.

Leaders in the lightweight labyrinth, from which someone, somewhere, sometime, may emerge with a clear-cut crown, are Juan Zurita, Bob Montgomery and Beau Jack.

Zurita, Mexico's pride and joy who holds NBA sanction, is heading home for a rest after dropping an overweight 10-rounder last Friday to Beau Jack in Madison Square Garden. Montgomery, holder of the title recognized by New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania is on a vacation. Beau Jack, who has held the New York version twice, and lost it twice, also is set for a layoff in his native Georgia.

And Madison Square Garden, where the boys have been winning and losing in a manner baffling to the betting fraternity, will be filled with an honest-to-goodness circus the next six weeks.

Norristown Chief To Testify Today

Norristown, Pa., April 4 (AP)—George Bausewine, 75-year-old Norristown police chief, was expected to take the stand in his own defense at his bribery trial today after a witness accused him of accepting $50 month in "protection money" for a period of more than a year.

His accuser, Vincent McCafferty, steward and bartender of the Norristown Orioles lodge, said he went to Bausewine's home each month from November, 1942, up to last month, and left the money in an envelope to forestall police raids against the lodge's slot machines.

As the commonwealth rested yesterday, the defense moved that all the charges against Bausewine except bribery be thrown out. The other charges are malfeasance and nonfeasance in office, conspiracy, and obstruction of justice. Judge George C. Corson deferred action on the motion until today.

Easter Shopping Rush Tops Xmas

Pittsburgh, April 4 (AP)—Milling throngs of shoppers spending pre-Easter paychecks, jammed downtown Pittsburgh last night, and weary streetcar and bus dispatchers and operators estimated the crowds were greater than during the pre-Christmas rush.

Extra runs were put on all lines. Closing of schools in the city and many outlying communities added thousands of children to the shopping crowds.

One hundred and thirty-five civilian defense auxiliary policemen served as volunteer traffic police in downtown and northside business districts.

Court Instructs Chaplin Jurors

Los Angeles, April 4 (AP)—The Charlie Chaplin Mann act trial, a long series of legal battles and bitterly disputed testimony, entered its final phases today—with only the court's instructions remaining to be read before the jury retires to deliberate on the film comedian-producer's innocence or guilt.

Federal Judge J. F. O'Connor set aside the first hour of today's session for the reading of a 5,500-word list of instructions to the jury. The trial started 15 days ago.

Throughout yesterday Attorneys Jerry Giesler for the defense and Charles H. Carr for the government rehearsed the uncounted thousands of words of testimony and gave the jury their respective interpretations of it.

Giesler "spent his time trying Joan Berry," Carr shouted in his closing argument.

"There is no more evidence of Mann act violation than there is of murder," Giesler had declared a little earlier.

Crane, former New York broker and now a film actor, and Miss Turner were married July 17, 1942. The actress and Band Leader Artie Shaw were wed in 1940, but were divorced the following year.

Police Probing "Secret Society"

Jackson, Mich., April 4 (AP)—City police disclosed Monday they were investigating a boys' "secret society" whose "ritual," they said, required the members to wipe their feet on the American flag and stab the Bible with a knife.

Police Sgt. Fred Foster said a 16-year-old high school boy claimed leadership of the group of juveniles and that they called themselves "The State" and hoped to take control of the government within "15 or 20 years."

Foster said the boys circulated crude pamphlets which attacked negroes, Jews, capitalism, religion, and England. The boys had a cache of blackjacks, knives, various badges and symbols, Foster said.

Capt. Harold Mulbar, of the state police, said an investigation had found no adult connection with the group.

The police said the boys had a letter from a "Chicago member" who

MILLER TAKES 26TH STRAIGHT BOUT VICTORY

Pittsburgh, April 4 (AP)—In less than a year after he came out of retirement and started on the flaccid comeback trail, lightweight Billy Miller today was on the threshold of boxing's big money circle.

The Lawrenceville Irishman chalked up his twenty-sixth consecutive victory last night when he was awarded a split decision over class Lulu Constantino of New York in a ten-rounder at the Gardens.

The majority of the ringsiders thought Constantino—a 2-1 favorite—an easy winner. The two judges, however, voted for Miller, while the referee gave the New Yorker an edge.

Stormy Finish

Constantino forced the fight in the early rounds, with Miller changing from his back-peddaling, dancing tactics to dominate the fight from the sixth round on.

Miller, under the wing of the veteran Harry Pittler, started his comeback last August, winning a third round T.K.O. over the Puerto Rican, Jose Domingo Rosa.

He began to attract attention after defeating Benny Goldberg of Detroit. Goldberg had just fought Manuel Ortiz for the title, and Miller earned acclaim by taking every round from Goldberg with ease.

Ruby Garcia, the Cuban who Miller defeated twice, termed the Lawrenceville boy "the strongest fellow I ever fought—and that includes Bob Montgomery, Sammy Angott and Benny Goldberg."

Confesses Murder Of School Girl

Detroit, April 4 (AP)—Sheriff Andrew C. Baird announced today that Richard Vincent, 23, a gasoline station attendant, had confessed the slaying on March 27, of 14-year-old Joyce Raulston, Detroit school girl whose body was found on a municipal dump.

Baird and Russell C. Gregory, chief of county detectives, quoted Vincent as saying the killing occurred during a quarrel in his automobile. He said he first met Joyce in a gasoline station adjoining the tourist camp at Warren avenue west and Telegraph road where she had spent the week-end.

Her body, beaten and stabbed, was found on the dump on the morning of March 28.

Strike In Dispute Over Flag Ended

Aliquippa, Pa., April 4 (AP)—A one-day strike that closed the entire seamless tube mill of the Jones & Laughlin steel corporation was ended today after about 800 employees voted to return to their jobs.

The strike, termed unauthorized by the United Steelworkers of America (CIO) grew out of a dispute over removal of an American flag the workers had erected on a bracket under a crane runway. A foreman explained he ordered the flag moved to another location because it was in danger of becoming spotted with oil.

A company spokesman said the walkout resulted in the loss of about 1,000 tons production of bomb and shell bodies.

Bertelli Picked By Ted Collins

New York, April 4 (AP)—Ted Collins, owner of the Boston franchise in the National Professional Football league, said today that the other club owners in the loop had given him first selection in the grid draft and that his opening choice would be Angelo Bertelli, Notre Dame quarterback of last fall.

"My football team will play the T-formation and Bertelli is the best T-formation quarterback I ever have seen," explained Collins, "and besides that, he is from the Boston area."

Bertelli now is in the Marines and unless the war ends unexpectedly will not be available when the Yanks, nickname for the club whose franchise Collins acquired at the league's midwinter meeting, takes the field this fall.

FIFTH OF U. S. IS PUBLIC OWNED

Washington, April 4 (AP)—Nine-tenths of government agencies share jurisdiction over approximately 300,000,000 acres of public lands, including roughly one-fifth of continental United States, Rep. Peterson, D-Mia, said today, and Congress will be asked to adopt a policy for returning much of this acreage to the tax rolls.

The House Public Lands committee is completing a nine-month study of the problem. Chairman Peterson disclosed in an interview, and will recommend localities be reimbursed on a basis of tax losses and land valuation, except for lands of strictly governmental nature, such as those used for postoffices, custom houses and similar purposes.

"So long as any agency retains title to such (surplus) lands, it will be responsible for paying taxes or service charges in lieu of taxes, and this policy would encourage all agencies to get busy and dispose of all property not absolutely needed," he asserted.

The person from whom the land was purchased should have "first chance at it," Peterson said, "then the war veterans in instances where the land is suitable for farming."

Scranton, Pa., April 4 (AP)—A former Scranton policeman was in critical condition today from a bullet wound received at the scene of a tire store burglary.

The man, Walter Hunsinger, 46, was shot in the back Sunday by Patrolman Evan Evans, the patrolman said.

Evans said he fired when he saw Hunsinger leaving a tire store early yesterday morning carrying two tires. Hunsinger disregarded Evans' order to halt, and instead began to run, Evans reported.

POLICE PROBE

New Bethlehem, Pa., April 4 (AP)—Police continued an investigation today into the death of 10-year-old James Hoffman after a coroner's jury reported the youth suffered a blow on the head "at the hands of an unknown assailant." The boy's body was found Saturday in the basement of his home.

Court Instructs Chaplin Jurors

Los Angeles, April 4 (AP)—The Charlie Chaplin Mann act trial, a long series of legal battles and bitterly disputed testimony, entered its final phases today with only the court's instructions remaining to be read before the jury retires to deliberate on the film comedian-producer's innocence or guilt.

Federal Judge J. F. O'Connor set aside the first hour of today's session for the reading of a 5,500-word list of instructions to the jury. The trial started 15 days ago.

Throughout yesterday Attorneys Jerry Giesler for the defense and Charles H. Carr for the government rehearsed the uncounted thousands of words of testimony and gave the jury their respective interpretations of it.

Giesler "spent his time trying Joan Berry," Carr shouted in his closing argument.

"There is no more evidence of Mann act violation than there is of murder," Giesler had declared a little earlier.

Police Probing "Secret Society"

Jackson, Mich., April 4 (AP)—City police disclosed Monday they were investigating a boys' "secret society" whose "ritual," they said, required the members to wipe their feet on the American flag and stab the Bible with a knife.

Police Sgt. Fred Foster said a 16-year-old high school boy claimed leadership of the group of juveniles and that they called themselves "The State" and hoped to take control of the government within "15 or 20 years."

Foster said the boys circulated crude pamphlets which attacked negroes, Jews, capitalism, religion, and England. The boys had a cache of blackjacks, knives, various badges and symbols, Foster said.

Capt. Harold Mulbar, of the state police, said an investigation had found no adult connection with the group.

The police said the boys had a letter from a "Chicago member" who

An Evening Thought
True dignity is never gained by place, and never lost when honors are withdrawn—Massinger.

Just Folks
IT'S A SHIP
The navy boys are pleasant; they are friendly as can be. No matter where you meet them they are jolly company. Their eyes are quick to twinkle and their faces quick to grin. They are fond of mirth and music and they all have yarns to spin. But their peacefulness will vanish and they'll want to slit your throat. If you haven't learned their language and you call their ship a "boat."

You may not know aft from forward, or the starboard from the port. Or that discipline is rigid when the vessel's known as "lout." You may say "downstairs," land-lubber, when you ought to say "below." And a sailor may forgive you and no sign of temper show. But a flash of indignation on his face you'll promptly note. If you make this foolish blunder and you call his ship a "boat."

Now a boat is something simple which by oars can be propelled. It's a craft for lakes and rivers and by foe it's never shelled. It is swung on ships in davits, and at times in storms at sea. Should the nobler vessel founder, very useful it can be. But from cabin boy to skipper you'll get every sailor's goat. And he'll never quite forgive you if you call his ship a "boat."

THE SOUL OF A DOG
I am told that there are 13,000,000 dog owners in the United States. That is a dog for about every tenth person. Pretty good evidence of the affection that is held for this best of all dumb animals as man's best friend.

In all literature there are few great writers who have not praised and lauded this noble beast. Next to one's own child, he is loved and often gets better treatment than our own flesh and blood. His devotion and loyalty are proverbial. His courage—even unto death—is sung in every language.

I have the original letter that John Burroughs sent to a great publishing house, who apparently wrote to him for information about his dog. This is the exact wording of that letter:

Dear Editor: My dog Laddie was a cur—a mixture of black and tan and Spaniel, the former predominating. He died, alas, in February, was killed by a big dog of my neighbor's. When I came to where he lay several hours after the big dog had had hold of him, he was motionless, still alive. The wounds which covered his body had dried up in the sun. When I spoke to him he made no other sign, but all his wounds instantly began to bleed afresh. It was like bloody tears trickling from all over his body. I suppose my voice quickened his pulse. He died in a little while afterward.

Very sincerely yours,
John Burroughs.

Every man's voice, you see, quickened the soul of that beloved dog, as though to express one last, loving tribute to one who had been kind to him. Considerate to the last expiring touch of life.

In some future state let us hope that this faithful friend of ours may be given the means of expressing his repressed thoughts in a former existence. Let us happily hope that Laddie and John Burroughs again roam the forest and glen together, drinking in Nature's great beauty and mystery—conversing soul to soul!

AMERICAN-BORN JAPS WILL VOTE AS ABSENTEES
By JAMES MARLOW and GEORGE ZIELKE
Washington, April 4 (AP)—American-born Japanese will vote this year, just like other Americans, but most of them will have to do it by absentee ballot.

The reason: So many of them are in relocation centers, outside the states where they lived before Pearl Harbor, and were moved there by the government.

Under a general rule in common law, a person can not vote in a state to which he has been moved involuntarily. Those in the centers outside their own states will have to use the absentee ballot.

This will be possible because they were moved from California, western Oregon and Washington, and southern Arizona, all states which permit absentee voting.

American-Born
There are 120,000 Japanese in this country, 40,000 of them aliens and 80,000 American-born who therefore are citizens.

All the Japanese, including some American citizens, who professed loyalty to Japan are segregated in the relocation center at Tule Lake, Calif.

The only exceptions to the law against permitting citizenship to foreign-born Japanese were about a dozen who were given citizenship by Congress for fighting for this country in the first World War.

KNOX REVEALS NEW ATTACKS AGAINST JAPS
Washington, April 4 (AP)—All Japanese ships caught at anchor at Palau, Woleai and Yap were sunk or damaged, by an American task force raiding those enemy bases, Secretary of the Navy Knox reported today.

Knox at a press conference said there was no way to estimate the number of ships that were caught in the anchorages. In addition to those hit in the lagoons, he said one Japanese warship was sunk "near Palau and two near Woleai."

The secretary's mention of Woleai and Yap was the first disclosure that the powerful task force hitting Japanese Caroline island territory had struck those two points. Woleai has an unusually good anchorage. Yap, another Japanese base, has been used principally as a communications center.

Lose 27 Ships
Knox said that first reports of the strike which began March 30 and continued through April 1 indicated that our airplane losses were eight fighter planes, 11 bombers and eight torpedo bombers. There was no indication in original reports of any damage to the American warships.

The original reports from the Pacific fleet of the strike at Palau had told of Japanese ships fleeing to the westward, toward the Philippine islands, after the American task force struck with its heavy bombers and big guns.

Knox said that only meager details had been received so far because of the necessity of maintaining radio silence until the task force has completed its mission. However, he expressed belief that additional information may be forthcoming shortly.

He described as an "interesting slant" on the Palau raid, the fact that an air raid alarm was sounded in Manila.

"We don't know whether one of our planes went over Manila and threatened them or if they knew of this attack close by," the secretary said.

Party Leaders Meet On Special Session
Harrisburg, April 4 (AP)—Republican and Democratic party and legislative leaders came here today to hear Governor Martin's plans for simplifying Pennsylvania's soldier vote law at a special session of the legislature to be convened probably May 1.

Rival party chairmen and legislative leaders were invited by the Governor to his office in effort to assure speedy enactment of a program calling for elimination of registration requirements for military voters, allow more time for receipt and return of ballots and permit compiling of a list of prospective soldier voters by the defense council.

The State Elections bureau, meantime, predicted two-thirds of Pennsylvanians in the armed forces will cast ballots in the November General election under the liberalizations proposed by the administration.

WISCONSIN VOTE IS WILLKIE TEST
Milwaukee, April 4 (AP)—The nation watched for possible surprises as Wisconsin elected national political convention delegates today from a field pledged variously to four Republican presidential prospects.

Politicians eyed the Republican balloting chiefly as a test for Wendell Willkie—in view of his barnstorming personal effort here. Interest in the Democratic side was limited by the fact there was no preferential contest. Franklin D. Roosevelt's being the only name listed. Democrats elected 26 national delegates, Republicans 24.

Willkie alone of four Republicans represented today actually campaigned. But Governor Thomas E. Dewey's followers were aggressively active despite his disavowal; some believed Lt. Commander Harold E. Stassen of neighboring Minnesota would reveal unexpected strength; and supporters of General Douglas MacArthur, although relatively inactive, predicted a favorable showing.

In addition to the battle royal for delegates, there was a direct presidential preference ballot, but all except supporters of General MacArthur passed it up. MacArthur's name appeared at the head of the ballot. It was possible that some significance might develop in the size of the popular vote for the general.

AFL ATTACKS STEEL FORMULA WAGE CONTROLS
Washington, April 4 (AP)—The American Federation of Labor today opened the second major attack on wage controls in two weeks with an assertion that the Little Steel Formula "has become an economic thumbscrew to torment the working people of America and their families."

Secretary - Treasurer George Meany outlined the AFL's case before a War Labor board panel specially appointed to hear its demand for a "realistic modification" of the formula.

Meany did not specify statistically what the new wage ceilings should be but asserted that living costs since Jan. 1, 1941, have risen far more than the 15 per cent allowed under the formula "even on the basis of the sawdust chart" of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

"We say the costs are up at least 43 per cent," he declared, "and the Department of Agriculture agrees that as far as farmers are concerned, that figure is about right."

Can Recommend
Two weeks ago another board panel heard the CIO United Steel Workers lambast the formula for days. Both panels are limited to fact-finding reports to the board, which may then order a further investigation of the entire subject of wage stabilization.

The board itself can not alter the formula but may recommend a change to President Roosevelt. It refused to make such a recommendation three weeks ago on motion of the AFL.

"Our purpose," Meany told the panel, "is not to add to the workers' wartime standard of living. Nor is it our intention to destroy the wage stabilization program. The AFL seeks only to recover the losses in the prewar standard of living which the workers of this nation have suffered as a result of the Little Steel Formula. This remedy is available within the limits of the wage stabilization program."

Just Folks

IT'S A SHIP
The navy boys are pleasant; they are friendly as can be. No matter where you meet them they are jolly company. Their eyes are quick to twinkle and their faces quick to grin. They are fond of mirth and music and they all have yarns to spin. But their peacefulness will vanish and they'll want to slit your throat. If you haven't learned their language and you call their ship a "boat."

You may not know aft from forward, or the starboard from the port. Or that discipline is rigid when the vessel's known as "tant." You may say "downstairs," land-lubber, when you ought to say "below."

And a sailor may forgive you and no sign of temper show. But a flash of indignation on his face you'll promptly note. If you make this foolish blunder and you call his ship a "boat."

Now a boat is something simple which by oars can be propelled. It's a craft for lakes and rivers and by foe it's never shelled. It is swung on ships in davits, and at times in storms at sea. Should the nobler vessel founder, very useful it can be. But from cabin boy to skipper you'll get every sailor's goat. And he'll never quite forgive you if you call his ship a "boat."

Today's Talk

THE SOUL OF A DOG
I am told that there are 13,000,000 dog owners in the United States. That is a dog for about every tenth person. Pretty good evidence of the affection that is held for this best of all dumb animals as man's best friend.

In all literature there are few great writers who have not praised and lauded this noble beast. Next to one's own child, he is loved and often gets better treatment than our own flesh and blood. His devotion and loyalty are proverbial. His courage—even unto death—is sung in every language.

I have the original letter that John Burroughs sent to a great publishing house, who apparently wrote to him for information about his dog. This is the exact wording of that letter:

"Dear Editor: My dog Laddie was a cur—a mixture of black and tan and Spaniel, the former predominating. He died, alas, in February, was killed by a big dog of my neighbor's. When I came to where he lay several hours after the big dog had had hold of him, he was motionless but still alive. The wounds which covered his body had dried up in the sun. When I spoke to him he made no other sign, but all his wounds instantly began to bleed afresh; it was like bloody tears trickling from all over his body. I suppose my voice quickened his pulse. He died in a little while afterward.

Very sincerely yours,

John Burroughs.

Every man's voice, you see, quickened the soul of that beloved dog, as though to express one last, loving tribute to one who had been kind to him. Considerate to the last expiring touch of life.

In some future state let us hope that this faithful friend of ours may be given the means of expressing his repressed thoughts in a former existence. Let us happily hope that Laddie and John Burroughs again roam the forest and glen together, drinking in Nature's great beauty and mystery—conversing soul to soul!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Plan Over All."

AMERICAN-BORN JAPS WILL VOTE AS ABSENTEES

By JAMES MARLOW and GEORGE ZIELKE

Washington, April 4 (AP)—American-born Japanese will vote this year, just like other Americans, but most of them will have to do it by absentee ballot.

The reason: So many of them are in relocation centers, outside the states where they lived before Pearl Harbor, and were moved there by the government.

Under a general rule in common law, a person can not vote in a state to which he has been moved involuntarily. Those in the centers outside their own states will have to use the absentee ballot.

This will be possible because they were moved from California, western Oregon and Washington, and southern Arizona, all states which permit absentee voting.

American-Born

There are 120,000 Japanese in this country, 40,000 of them aliens and 80,000 American-born who therefore are citizens.

All the Japanese, including some American citizens, who professed loyalty to Japan are segregated in the relocation center at Tule Lake, Calif.

The only exceptions to the law against permitting citizenship to foreign-born Japanese were about a dozen who were given citizenship by Congress for fighting for this country in the first World War.

KNOX REVEALS NEW ATTACKS AGAINST JAPS

Washington, April 4 (AP)—All Japanese ships caught at anchor at Palau, Woleai and Yap were sunk or damaged, by an American task force raiding those enemy bases, Secretary of the Navy Knox reported today.

Knox at a press conference said there was no way to estimate the number of ships that were caught in the anchorages. In addition to those hit in the lagoons, he said one Japanese warship was sunk "near Palau and two near Woleai."

The secretary's mention of Woleai and Yap was the first disclosure that the powerful task force hitting in Japanese Caroline island territory had struck those two points. Woleai has an unusually good anchorage. Yap, another Japanese base, has been used principally as a communications center.

Lose 27 Ships

Knox said that first reports of the strike which began March 30 and continued through April 1 indicated that our airplane losses were eight fighter planes, 11 bombers and eight torpedo bombers. There was no indication in original reports of any damage to the American warships.

The original reports from the Pacific fleet of the strike at Palau had told of Japanese ships fleeing to the westward, toward the Philippine islands, after the American task force struck with its heavy bombers and big guns.

Knox said that only meager details had been received so far because of the necessity of maintaining radio silence until the task force has completed its mission. However, he expressed belief that additional information may be forthcoming shortly.

He described as an "interesting slant" on the Palau raid, the fact that an air raid alarm was sounded in Manila.

"We don't know whether one of our planes went over Manila and threatened them or if they knew of this attack close by," the secretary said.

Evangelist Here

The Rev. and Mrs. C. S. Powers, evangelists from Illinois, will open a two-week series of special services this evening at 7:30 o'clock, at the Foursquare Gospel church. Services will be conducted each evening except Monday. The Rev. and Mrs. Powers will also present special music on accordions.

Party Leaders Meet On Special Session

Harrisburg, April 4 (AP)—Republican and Democratic party and legislative leaders came here today to hear Governor Martin's plans for simplifying Pennsylvania's soldier vote law at a special session of the legislature to be convened probably May 1.

Rival party chairmen and legislative leaders were invited by the Governor to his office in effort to assure speedy enactment of a program calling for elimination of registration requirements for military voters, allow more time for receipt and return of ballots and permit compiling of a list of prospective soldier voters by the defense council.

The State Elections bureau, meantime, predicted two-thirds of Pennsylvanians in the armed forces will cast ballots in the November General election under the liberalizations proposed by the administration.

WISCONSIN VOTE IS WILLKIE TEST

Milwaukee, April 4 (AP)—The nation watched for possible surprises as Wisconsin elected national political convention delegates today from a field pledged variously to four Republican presidential prospects.

Politicians eyed the Republican balloting chiefly as a test for Wendell Willkie—in view of his barnstorming personal effort here. Interest in the Democratic side was limited by the fact there was no preferential contest, Franklin D. Roosevelt's being the only name listed. Democrats elected 26 national delegates, Republicans 24.

Willkie alone of four Republicans represented today actually campaigned. But Governor Thomas E. Dewey's followers were aggressively active despite his disavowal; some believed Lt. Commander Harold E. Stassen of neighboring Minnesota would reveal unexpected strength; and supporters of General Douglas MacArthur, although relatively inactive, predicted a favorable showing.

In addition to the battle royal for delegates, there was a direct presidential preference ballot, but all except supporters of General MacArthur passed it up. MacArthur's name appeared at the head of the ballot. It was possible that some significance might develop in the size of the popular vote for the general.

Abbottstown

Abbottstown—Jordy Hafer and Frank Yeager, who recently received honorable discharges from the Army, have moved into the Hafer residence. Both men are former residents of this town.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Baker and family moved from the George Lillick farm to the Lester Hoover house in Abbottstown. Mr. Baker was inducted into the Army Monday.

The following young people were confirmed in Emmanuel Reformed church Sunday morning. Jean Altland, George Butt, Nila Grim, Edith Kinneman, Rhina Miller, Carolyn Shaffer. Mr. Myers was also received into membership of the church.

Dr. Grove Haines, of Syracuse university, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Haines. Dr. Haines was on his way to Philadelphia where he was to deliver a lecture.

Guy A. P. Hoke, who was Scoutmaster of the local Boy Scouts, resigned at a meeting held at the home of Merle Sanders, on Friday night. J. Faber Wildasin was appointed Scoutmaster; Milo Wolf, as assistant Scoutleader; Merle Saunders, as chairman; Richard Hoke, treasurer; Blaine Wildasin, leader of the high patrol; and Rhina Miller, assistant; Robert Meckley, leader of the Wolf patrol; Herbert Hoke, assistant; Herbert Hoke, troop scribe and bugler.

The committee is composed of Merle Saunders, David Hoke, Earl Alwine, George Hollinger and Richard Hoke.

Prof. Fred Baker and family, of New Jersey, are spending the Easter holidays with Prof. Baker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Baker.

Trans-Pacific Flier Divorced At Reno

Reno, Nev., April 4 (AP)—Clyde Pangborn, first non-stop trans-Pacific flier and now an RAF captain, was divorced here yesterday by Swana Beaucare, 29, former French screen star.

The divorce action was based on a charge of three year's separation. They were married in England in 1939.

Miss Beaucare said she hopes to join the women's auxiliary of the fighting French.

as real estate levies are concerned or post a new bond to cover the collection of the $2,716.64 yet outstanding. At the same time he was exonerated from the bond for the collection of $1,179.20 on occupational levies but the tax payers themselves are not exonerated, it was pointed out.

These steps were necessary before the 1944 duplicate, which Mr. Dracha said will be ready by the end of next week, can be turned over to the collector. A new bond for the 1944 duplicate must be approved by the court.

Seek Sheely Advice

Burgess Fred G. Pfeffer told council the new police department setup with two new members has been satisfactory so far and that he is "pleased with the cooperation he is receiving." He said he is giving the officers special instructions and is especially directing their attention to juvenile problems. Council again discussed the possibility of getting Judge W. C. Sheely to attend a council session to talk over juvenile delinquency.

Mr. Winebrenner told council he will start street patching as soon as repairs to the borough roller are completed. He will start work next week on replacing concrete on Carlisle street where openings were made by the gas company. Council authorized the purchase of amesite for patching work on Chambersburg street.

Council authorized the semi-annual payment of $87.50 as rental for the borough dump along the Littlestown road. Council also voted a quarterly appropriation of $75 to the Blue and Gray band.

Burgess' Report
Pfeffer showed total collections in fines, fees and permits of $395.89 for last month with the theater tax of $382.89 as the large item on the list. The monthly report of Borough Treasurer John H. Baschore showed a balance of $11,584.13 in the general fund after bills totaling $2,801.27 for March were paid.

Council President H. M. Oyer presided at the meeting with Councilmen Harry J. Troxell, L. D. Shealer, George D. March, Ray M. Hoffman, Harry E. Koch, Fred A. Hummelbaugh, Joseph D. Kenderhart and Vernon Corle; Burgess Pfeffer, Secretary—Dracha; Mr. Baschore and Mr. Winebrenner in attendance.

MOVE TO OFFSET COURT DECISION FOR NEGRO SEEN

Washington, April 4 (AP)—Speedy state action to offset a Supreme court decision upholding the right of negroes to vote in Texas Democratic primary elections was predicted today by southern legislators.

In a ruling described by the southerners as a blow to state sovereignty, but hailed in other quarters as "absolutely right," the court held Texas election officials erred in denying the vote to Lonnie E. Smith, Houston negro, because of a state party ban against members of his race participating in the 1940 Democratic primary. The court ruled, in effect, that state laws supplementing the party ban were in violation of the constitution.

The decision caused southern members of Congress to congregate in little knots at the capitol and from them came the unanimous assertion that steps would be taken to keep negroes generally out of the Democratic primaries, which are all-decisive in the south.

Other reactions:

1. Predictions that Arkansas and Alabama, which have party-imposed racial bans similar to that in Texas, may have to find other means of keeping primaries free of negro voters.

2. Senator Maybank (D-SC) said South Carolina also may have to revise its laws, since the state permits the party organization to fix all the qualifications for primary voters except age and residence. (The South Carolina Democratic state convention defeated in 1942 a resolution which would have admitted negroes to the party.)

3. A suggestion by Senator Andrews (D-Fla) that some southern states may return to the old convention system of choosing nominees.

ESCAPE from PARIS

by Marion McClure Stewart AP Features

Chapter 14
"Mademoiselle Girard, may I present Fraulein Lange, of the Women's Communication Corps, who desired to meet you," said Von Egert, bowing. "You are difficult to locate Mademoiselle. I have called several times at the apartment on the Rue de Vaugirard where you are staying, and also at the cafe, but I haven't yet been fortunate enough to discover you."

"It is not an easy life to learn one's living, Herr Kapitlan," returned Adrienne smiling, relieved that her tete-a-tete with Schafer had been interrupted. "I am sorry you should have taken so much trouble for nothing."

"I am repaid now by the sight of you," he rejoined, his eyes resting on her in a way she found embarrassing. "Won't you both join us for supper at Maxim's?"

"Thank you but for me it will be impossible," Adrienne returned. She sensed Schafer will ill pleased at the interruption, though he had bowed and made some casual remarks to Fraulein Lange, who was regarding her with curiosity and a veiled hostility.

"Then permit me to drive you home, Mademoiselle. My car is waiting and it will save Herr Schafer from going out of his way. Fraulein Lange and I can then go on to Maxim's later."

"If Herr Schafer has no objection, I will be glad to accept your offer," Adrienne said. "I find I am very tired. Shall we leave now?"

"If you wish," Von Egert glanced at Schafer. "I am sure Herr Schafer understands."

A minute later she had expressed her thanks and apologies to the discomfited Schafer and accompanied Von Egert and Fraulein Lange to the waiting car.

When he had given the Rue de Vaugirard address to his chauffeur, Van Egert said smiling, "I fancied you were rather bored this evening, and thought I would rescue you."

"That was a happy thought," she answered smiling, and glanced diffidently at Fraulein Lange's well defined profile, coldly aloof. "I think I have seen you somewhere in uniform, Fraulein. It must be interesting work you are doing."

"Yes, very interesting," returned Fraulein Lange. "In fact life here is a continual revelation."

She glanced with intent at Von Egert as she spoke.

Madame Dupont, cashier at the Cafe Dragon Rouge, was knitting in the living room of her small apartment on the fourth floor of an apartment house on the Rue de Vaugirard.

As her needles clicked, her thoughts were busy with the recent developments in the situation at the cafe. She was aware that the Gestapo agent, Herr Schafer, had kept a watchful eye on all that went on there, and that since the fateful day of his encounter with the American airman he had redoubled his vigilance.

What could one do? She had known Adrienne since the latter's childhood days, and having no child-dren of her own, had lavished on the girl a certain maternal fondness and interest. She knew that this was the day that John Farrel was to have made an attempt to escape the Nazi net, and her lips moved in a prayer for his safety.

Several days before, unknown to Adrienne, who had been absent at the time from the cafe, the entire restaurant premises and the flat above had been searched by members of the Gestapo, who had ransacked even the cupboards and looked under the beds in M. Dus-sault's living quarters, and on finding no one, had gone away discomfited and baffled. Madame Dupont and Dusault had exchanged anxious glances during this ordeal, and the latter had suggested that it might be just as well not to mention it to Adrienne, until Farrel got safely away.

Her train of thought was suddenly broken by the sound of a latch key turning in the entrance door. She heard a light footfall, then Adrienne's voice.

"Adrienne, ma petite," she exclaimed rising, her dark eyes fixed on the girl with a welcoming look tempered by concern. "Where have you been? Did he get away safely?"

"Yes, so far all is well," Adrienne slipped off her jacket and hat. She sank into an easy chair.

"I only begin to realize now how fatigued I am. But I will tell you all I can."

She told everything except about the wedding.

No suspicion of this dawned on Madame Dupont. She sighed a little as she looked at Adrienne, and marvelled at her apparent serenity. How differently she would have reacted in her youth to such a situation.

Her concern deepened however when Adrienne mentioned her chance meeting with Schafer, omitting any allusion to their subsequent conversation, and later her encounter with Von Egert at the Continental. She shook her head gravely.

"I do not like it," she protested. "These encounters are dangerous for you, mon enfant."

"It can't be helped," Adrienne shrugged her shoulders. "What would you have me do?"

"It is difficult to say, but it is dangerous for you."

Madame Dupont rose and went to the tiny kitchenette opening off the little hall, opposite the living room. "You look a trifle tired, and I'm going to make you some cafe-au-lait. You were wise to come here under the circumstances. I did not mention to you that Von Egert has called several times at the cafe."

"So you can't always tell me who my callers are," Adrienne shook a finger at her in playful admonition. "He himself told me."

"He is less dangerous than Schafer," Madame Dupont placed the coffee pot over a lighted gas jet in the little stove. "But I don't like either of them, Adrienne, and your uncle would not approve of your having anything to do with this man." She busied herself spreading an embroidered linen cover on the gategley table in the living room. "I have some sardines and Camembert cheese in the larder, and here are some fresh brioches. Then I shall tuck you up on the sofa bed."

Pouring the coffee a few minutes later into a rose colored cup, she resumed, "In regard to this Fraulein Lange. Be careful of her. Those girls are sent here by the German government to spy on us in every way possible."

"I knew that," rejoined Adrienne, sipping her coffee.

Expect Changes In Churchill Cabinet

London, April 4 (AP)—Changes in the Churchill government with Anthony Eden stepping down as foreign minister were believed near today, an announcement being expected during the Easter holidays. The most substantial speculations was that Lord Cranborne, now dominions secretary, would succeed Eden at the foreign office, but that Eden would retain his leadership in the House of Commons.

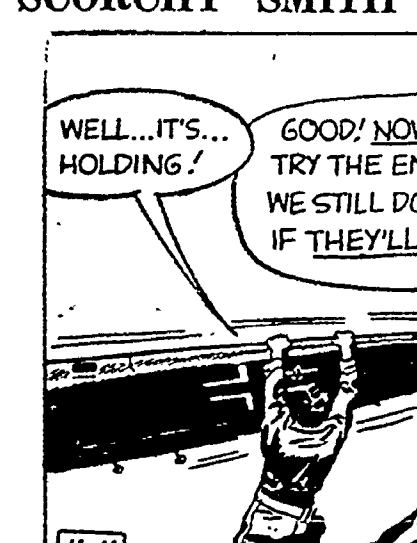

Energetic Lord Beaverbrook, who is restive in the inactive role of lord privy seal, was considered a possible selection for dominions secretary. Some quarters said the Canadian-born publisher was slated to replace Eden, but this was generally held to be quite unlikely.

Other portfolios which, it is believed, may change hands include the ministry of fuel, where Major Gwilym Lloyd George has been having strike troubles, and the agriculture ministry, where Robert Spear Hudson's price control policies have been under fire from the farmers.

If Eden quits the foreign office, his departure may be prompted by the consideration that the dual role he has been playing is too much for one man.

Approximately 95 of every 100 patients who were admitted to the venereal disease rapid treatment centers operated under the U. S. Public Health Service up to January 1944, were girls.

as real estate levies are concerned or post a new bond to cover the collection of the $2,716.64 yet out- standing. At the same time he was exonerated from the bond for the collection of $1,179.20 on occupa- tional levies but the tax payers themselves are not exonerated, it was pointed out.

These steps were necessary before the 1944 duplicate, which Mr. Dracha said will be ready by the end of next week, can be turned over to the collector. A new bond for the 1944 duplicate must be ap- proved by the court.

Seek Sheely Advice

Burgess Fred G. Pfeffer told council the new police department set up with two new members has been satisfactory so far and that he is "pleased with the cooperation he is receiving." He said he is giv- ing the officers special instructions and is especially directing their at- tention to juvenile problems. Coun- cil again discussed the possibility of getting Judge W. C. Sheely to attend a council session to talk over juvenile delinquency.

Mr. Winebrenner told council he will start street patrolling as soon as repairs to the borough roller are completed. He will start work next week on replacing concrete on Car- lisle street where openings were made by the gas company. Council authorized the purchase of amesite for patching work on Chambersburg street.

Council authorized the semi-an- nual payment of $67.50 as rental for the borough dump along the Little- town road. Council also voted a quarterly appropriation of $75 to the Blue and Gray band.

Burgess' Report

The monthly report of Burgess Pfeffer showed total collections in fines, fees and permits of $395.89 for last month with the theater tax of $382.89 as the large item on the list. The monthly report of Borough Treasurer John H. Basehore showed a balance of $11,584.13 in the gen- eral fund after bills totaling $2,801.27 for March were paid.

Council President H. M. Oyer presided at the meeting with Coun- cilmen Harry J. Troxell, L. D. Shearer, George D. March, Ray M. Hoffman, Harry E. Koch, Fred A. Hummelbaugh, Joseph D. Kendle- har and Vernon Corle; Burgess Pfeffer, Secretary—Dracha, Mr. Basehore and Mr. Winebrenner in attendance.

MOVE TO OFFSET COURT DECISION FOR NEGRO SEEN

Washington, April 4 (AP)—Speedy state action to offset a Supreme court decision upholding the right of negroes to vote in Texas Democratic primary elections was predicted to- day by southern legislators.

In a ruling described by the south- erners as a blow to state sovereignty, but hailed in other quarters as "absolutely right," the court held Texas election officials erred in denying the vote to Lonnie E. Smith, Hous- ton negro, because of a state party ban against members of his race participating in the 1940 Democratic primary. The court ruled, in effect, that state laws supplementing the party ban were in violation of the constitution.

The decision caused southern members of Congress to congregate in little knots at the capitol and from them came the unanimous as- sertion that steps would be taken to keep negroes generally out of the Democratic primaries, which are all- decisive in the south.

Other reactions:

1. Predictions that Arkansas and Alabama, which have party-imposed racial bans similar to that in Texas, may have to find other means of keeping primaries free of negro voters.

2. Senator Maybank (D-SC) said South Carolina also may have to revise its laws, since the state per- mits the party organization to fix all the qualifications for primary voters except age and residence. (The South Carolina Democratic state convention defeated in 1942 a resolution which would have ad- mitted negroes to the party.)

3. A suggestion by Senator Andrews (D-Fla) that some southern states may return to the old con- vention system of choosing nomi- nees.

Chapter 14

"Mademoiselle Girard, may I present Fraulein Lange, of the Women's Communication Corps, who desired to meet you," said Von Egert, bowing. "You are difficult to locate Mademoiselle. I have called several times at the apartment on the Rue de Vaugirard where you are staying, and also at the cafe, but I haven't yet been fortunate enough to discover you."

"It is not an easy life to learn one's living, Herr Kapitän," re- turned Adrienne smiling, relieved that her tete-a-tete with Schafer had been interrupted. "I am sorry you should have taken so much trouble for nothing."

"I am repaid now by the sight of you," he rejoined, his eyes resting on her in a way she found embarrassing. "Won't you both join us for supper at Maxim's?"

"Thank you but for me it will be impossible," Adrienne returned. She sensed Schafer will ill pleased at the interruption, though he had bowed and made some casual re- marks to Fraulein Lange, who was regarding her with curiosity and a veiled hostility.

"Then permit me to drive you home, Mademoiselle. My car is waiting and it will save Herr Schafer from going out of his way. Fraulein Lange and I can then go on to Maxim's later."

"If Herr Schafer has no objec- tion, I will be glad to accept your offer," Adrienne said. "I find I am very tired. Shall we leave now?"

"If you wish," Von Egert glanced at Schafer. "I am sure Herr Schafer understands."

A minute later she had expressed her thanks and apologies to the dis- comforted Schafer and accompanied Von Egert and Fraulein Lange to the waiting car.

When he had given the Rue de Vaugirard address to his chauffeur, Von Egert said smiling, "I fancied you were rather bored this evening, and thought I would rescue you."

"That was a happy thought," she answered smiling, and glanced diffi- dently at Fraulein Lange's well de- fined profile, coldly aloof.

"I think I have seen you some- where in uniform, Fraulein. It must be interesting work you are doing."

"Yes, very interesting," returned Fraulein Lange. "In fact life here is a continual revelation."

She glanced with intent at Von Egert as she spoke.

Madame Dupont, cashier at the Cafe Dragon Rouge, was knitting in the living room of her small apartment on the fourth floor of an apartment house on the Rue de Vaugirard.

As her needles clicked, her thoughts were busy with the recent developments in the situation at the cafe. She was aware that the Ges- tapo agent, Herr Schafer, had kept a watchful eye on all that went on there, and that since the fateful day of his encounter with the American airman he had redoubled his vigilance.

What could one do? She had known Adrienne since the latter's childhood days, and having no children of her own, had lavished on the girl a certain maternal fond- ness and interest. She knew that this was the day that John Farrel was to have made an attempt to escape the Nazi net, and her lips moved in a prayer for his safety.

Several days before, unknown to Adrienne, who had been absent at the time from the cafe, the entire restaurant premises and the flat above had been searched by mem- bers of the Gestapo, who had ran- sacked even the cupboards and looked under the beds in M. Dus- sault's living quarters, and on find- ing no one, had gone away dis- comforted and baffled. Madame Du- pont and Dussault had exchanged anxious glances during this ordeal, and the latter had suggested that it might be just as well not to men- tion it to Adrienne, until Farrel got safely away.

Her train of thought was suddenly broken by the sound of a latch key turning in the entrance door. She heard a light footfall, then Adri- enne's voice.

"Adrienne, ma petite," she ex- claimed rising, her dark eyes fixed on the girl with a welcoming look tempered by concern. "Where have you been? Did he get away safe- ly?"

"Yes, so far all is well," Adrienne slipped off her jacket and hat. She sank into an easy chair.

"I only begin to realize now how fatigued I am. But I will tell you all I can."

She told everything except about the wedding.

No suspicion of this dawned on Madame Dupont. She sighed a little as she looked at Adrienne, and mar- velled at her apparent serenity. How differently she would have reacted in her youth to such a situation.

Her concern deepened however when Adrienne mentioned her chance meeting with Schafer, omit- ting any allusion to their subsequent conversation, and later her encoun- ter with Von Egert at the Conti- nental. She shook her head gravely.

"I do not like it," she protested. "These encounters are dangerous for you, mon enfant."

"It can't be helped," Adrienne shrugged her shoulders. "What would you have me do?"

An Evening Thought
True dignity is never gained by place, and never lost when honors are withdrawn.—Massinger.

Just Folks

IT'S A SHIP
The navy boys are pleasant; they are friendly as can be. No matter where you meet them they are jolly company. Their eyes are quick to twinkle and their faces quick to grin. They are fond of mirth and music and they all have yarns to spin. But their peacefulness will vanish and they'll want to slit your throat. If you haven't learned their language and you call their ship a "boat."

You may not know aft from forward, or the starboard from the port. Or that discipline is rigid when the vessel's known as "aunt." You may say "downstairs," land-lubber, when you ought to say "below."

And a sailor may forgive you and no sign of temper show. But a flash of indignation on his face you'll promptly note. If you make this foolish blunder and you call his ship a "boat."

Now a boat is something simple which by oars can be propelled. It's a craft for lakes and rivers and by ice it's never shelled. It is swung on ships in davits, and at times in storms at sea. Should the nobler vessel founder, very useful it can be. But from cabin boy to skipper you'll get every sailor's goat. And he'll never quite forgive you if you call his ship a "boat."

Today's Talk

THE SOUL OF A DOG
I am told that there are 13,000,000 dog owners in the United States. That is a dog for about every tenth person. Pretty good evidence of the affection that is held for this best of all dumb animals as man's best friend.

In all literature there are few great writers who have not praised and lauded this noble beast. Next to one's own child, he is loved and often gets better treatment than our own flesh and blood. His devotion and loyalty are proverbial. His courage—even unto death—is sung in every language.

I have the original letter that John Burroughs sent to a great publishing house, who apparently wrote to him for information about his dog. This is the exact wording of that letter:

"Dear Editor: My dog Laddie was a cur—a mixture of black and tan and Spaniel, the former predominating. He died, alas, in February, was killed by a big dog of my neighbor's. When I came to where he lay several hours after the big dog had had hold of him, he was motionless but still alive. The wounds which covered his body had dried up in the sun. When I spoke to him he made no other sign, but all his wounds instantly began to bleed afresh; it was like bloody tears trickling from all over his body. I suppose my voice quickened his pulse. He died in a little while afterward."

Very sincerely yours,
John Burroughs

Every man's voice, you see, quickened the soul of that beloved dog, as though to express one last, loving tribute to one who had been kind to him. Considerate to the last, expiring touch of life.

In some future state let us hope that this faithful friend of ours may be given the means of expressing his repressed thoughts in a former existence. Let us happily hope that Laddie and John Burroughs again roam the forest and glen together, drinking in Nature's great beauty and mystery—conversing soul to soul!

AMERICAN-BORN JAPS WILL VOTE AS ABSENTEES

By JAMES MARLOW and GEORGE ZIELKE
Washington, April 4 (AP)—American-born Japanese will vote this year, just like other Americans, but most of them will have to do it by absentee ballot.

The reason: So many of them are in relocation centers, outside the states where they lived before Pearl Harbor, and were moved there by the government.

Under a general rule in common law, a person can not vote in a state to which he has been moved involuntarily. Those in the centers outside their own states will have to use the absentee ballot.

This will be possible because they were moved from California, western Oregon and Washington, and southern Arizona, all states which permit absentee voting.

American-Born
There are 120,000 Japanese in this country, 40,000 of them aliens and 80,000 American-born who therefore are citizens.

All the Japanese, including some American citizens, who professed loyalty to Japan are segregated in the relocation center at Tule Lake, Calif.

The only exceptions to the law against permitting citizenship to foreign-born Japanese were about a dozen who were given citizenship by Congress for fighting for this country in the first World War.

KNOX REVEALS NEW ATTACKS AGAINST JAPS

Washington, April 4 (AP)—All Japanese ships caught at anchor at Palau, Woleai and Yap were sunk or damaged, by an American task force raiding those enemy bases, Secretary of the Navy Knox reported today.

Knox at a press conference said there was no way to estimate the number of ships that were caught in the anchorages. In addition to those hit in the lagoons, he said one Japanese warship was sunk "near Palau and two near Woleai."

The secretary's mention of Woleai and Yap was the first disclosure that the powerful task force hitting in Japanese Caroline island territory had struck those two points. Woleai has an unusually good anchorage. Yap, another Japanese base, has been used principally as a communications center.

Lose 27 Ships
Knox said that first reports of the strike which began March 30 and continued through April 1 indicated that our airplane losses were eight fighter planes, 11 bombers and eight torpedo bombers. There was no indication in original reports of any damage to the American warships.

The original reports from the Pacific fleet of the strike at Palau had told of Japanese ships fleeing to the westward, toward the Philippine islands, after the American task force struck with its heavy bombers and big guns.

Knox said that only meager details had been received so far because of the necessity of maintaining radio silence until the task force has completed its mission. However, he expressed belief that additional information may be forthcoming shortly.

He described as an "interesting slant" on the Palau raid, the fact that an air raid alarm was sounded in Manila.

"We don't know whether one of our planes went over Manila and threatened them or if they knew of this attack close by," the secretary said.

Reno, Nev., April 4 (AP)—Clyde Pangborn, first non-stop trans-Pacific flier and now an RAF captain, was divorced here yesterday by Swana Beaucare, 29, former French screen star.

Miss Beaucare said she hopes to join the women's auxiliary of the fighting French.

Party Leaders Meet On Special Session

Harrisburg, April 4 (AP)—Republican and Democratic party and legislative leaders came here today to hear Governor Martin's plans for simplifying Pennsylvania's soldier vote law at a special session of the legislature to be convened probably May 1.

Rival party chairmen and legislative leaders were invited by the Governor to his office in effort to assure speedy enactment of a program calling for elimination of registration requirements for military voters, allow more time for receipt and return of ballots and permit compiling of a list of prospective soldier voters by the defense council.

The State Elections bureau, meantime, predicted two-thirds of Pennsylvanians in the armed forces will cast ballots in the November General election under the liberalizations proposed by the administration.

WISCONSIN VOTE IS WILLKIE TEST

Milwaukee, April 4 (AP)—The nation watched for possible surprises as Wisconsin elected national political convention delegates today from a field pledged variously to four Republican presidential prospects.

Politicians eyed the Republican balloting chiefly as a test for Wendell Willkie—in view of his barnstorming personal effort here. Interest in the Democratic side was limited by the fact there was no preferential contest, Franklin D. Roosevelt's being the only name listed. Democrats elected 26 national delegates, Republicans 24.

Willkie alone of four Republicans represented today actually campaigned. But Governor Thomas E. Dewey's followers were aggressively active despite his disavowal; some believed Lt. Commander Harold E. Stassen of neighboring Minnesota would reveal unexpected strength; and supporters of General Douglas MacArthur, although relatively inactive, predicted a favorable showing.

In addition to the battle royal for delegates, there was a direct presidential preference ballot, but all except supporters of General MacArthur passed it up. MacArthur's name appeared at the head of the ballot. It was possible that some significance might develop in the size of the popular vote for the general.

AFL ATTACKS STEEL FORMULA WAGE CONTROLS

Washington, April 4 (AP)—The American Federation of Labor today opened the second major attack on wage controls in two weeks with an assertion that the Little Steel Formula "has become an economic thumbscrew to torment the working people of America and their families."

Secretary-Treasurer George Meany outlined the AFL's case before a War Labor board panel specially appointed to hear its demand for a "realistic modification" of the formula.

Meany did not specify statistically what the new wage ceilings should be but asserted that living costs since Jan. 1, 1941, have risen far more than the 15 per cent allowed under the formula "even on the basis of the sawdust chart" of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

"We say the costs are up at least 43 per cent," he declared, "and the Department of Agriculture agrees that as far as farmers are concerned, that figure is about right."

Can Recommend
Two weeks ago another board panel heard the CIO United Steel Workers lambast the formula for days. Both panels are limited to fact-finding reports to the board, which may then order a further investigation of the entire subject of wage stabilization.

The board itself can not alter the formula but may recommend a change to President Roosevelt. It refused to make such a recommendation three weeks ago on motion of the AFL.

"Our purpose," Meany told the panel, "is not to add to the workers' wartime standard of living. Nor is it our intention to destroy the wage stabilization program. The AFL seeks only to recover the losses in the prewar standard of living which the workers of this nation have suffered as a result of the Little Steel Formula. This remedy is available within the limits of the wage stabilization program."

AFL ATTACKS STEEL FORMULA WAGE CONTROLS

Washington, April 4 (AP)—The American Federation of Labor today opened the second major attack on wage controls in two weeks with an assertion that the Little Steel Formula "has become an economic thumbscrew to torment the working people of America and their families."

Secretary-Treasurer George Meany outlined the AFL's case before a War Labor board panel specially appointed to hear its demand for a "realistic modification" of the formula.

Meany did not specify statistically what the new wage ceilings should be but asserted that living costs since Jan. 1, 1941, have risen far more than the 15 per cent allowed under the formula "even on the basis of the sawdust chart" of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

"We say the costs are up at least 43 per cent," he declared, "and the Department of Agriculture agrees that as far as farmers are concerned, that figure is about right."

Can Recommend
Two weeks ago another board panel heard the CIO United Steel Workers lambast the formula for days. Both panels are limited to fact-finding reports to the board, which may then order a further investigation of the entire subject of wage stabilization.

The board itself can not alter the formula but may recommend a change to President Roosevelt. It refused to make such a recommendation three weeks ago on motion of the AFL.

"Our purpose," Meany told the panel, "is not to add to the workers' wartime standard of living. Nor is it our intention to destroy the wage stabilization program. The AFL seeks only to recover the losses in the prewar standard of living which the workers of this nation have suffered as a result of the Little Steel Formula. This remedy is available within the limits of the wage stabilization program."

IT'S A SHIP

The navy boys are pleasant; they are friendly as can be. No matter where you meet them they are jolly company. Their eyes are quick to twinkle and their faces quick to grin. They are fond of mirth and music and they all have yarns to spin. But their peacefulness will vanish and they'll want to slit your throat. If you haven't learned their language and you call their ship a "boat."

You may not know aft from forward, or the starboard from the port. Or that discipline is rigid when the vessel's known as "tamt." You may say "downstairs" land-lubber, when you ought to say "below."

And a sailor may forgive you and no sign of temper show. But a flash of indignation on his face you'll promptly note. If you make this foolish blunder and you call his ship a "boat."

Now a boat is something simple which by oars can be propelled. It's a craft for lakes and rivers and by foe it's never shelled.

It is swung on ships in davits, and at times in storms at sea. Should the nobler vessel founder, very useful it can be. But from cabin boy to skipper you'll get every sailor's goat. And he'll never quite forgive you if you call his ship a "boat."

THE SOUL OF A DOG

I am told that there are 13,000,000 dog owners in the United States. That is a dog for about every tenth person. Pretty good evidence of the affection that is held for this best of all dumb animals as man's best friend.

In all literature there are few great writers who have not praised and lauded this noble beast. Next to one's own child, he is loved and often gets better treatment than our own flesh and blood. His devotion and loyalty are proverbial. His courage—even unto death—is sung in every language.

I have the original letter that John Burroughs sent to a great publishing house, who apparently wrote to him for information about his dog. This is the exact wording of that letter:

"Dear Editor: My dog Laddie was a cur—a mixture of black and tan and Spaniel, the former predominating. He died, alas, in February, was killed by a big dog of my neighbor's. When I came to where he lay several hours after the big dog had had hold of him, he was motionless but still alive. The wounds which covered his body had dried up in the sun. When I spoke to him he made no other sign, but all his wounds instantly began to bleed afresh; it was like bloody tears trickling from all over his body. I suppose my voice quickened his pulse. He died in a little while afterward.

Very sincerely yours,

John Burroughs.
Every man's voice, you see, quickened the soul of that beloved dog, as though to express one last, loving tribute to one who had been kind to him. Considerate to the last expiring touch of life.

In some future state let us hope that this faithful friend of ours may be given the means of expressing his repressed thoughts in a former existence. Let us happily hope that Laddie and John Burroughs again roam the forest and glen together, drinking in Nature's great beauty and mystery—conversing soul to soul!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Plan Over All."

AMERICAN-BORN JAPS WILL VOTE AS ABSENTEES

By JAMES MARLOW and
GEORGE ZIELKE

Washington, April 4 (AP)—American-born Japanese will vote this year, just like other Americans, but most of them will have to do it by absentee ballot.

The reason: So many of them are in relocation centers, outside the states where they lived before Pearl Harbor, and were moved there by the government.

Under a general rule in common law, a person can not vote in a state to which he has been moved involuntarily. Those in the centers outside their own states will have to use the absentee ballot.

This will be possible because they were moved from California, western Oregon and Washington, and southern Arizona, all states which permit absentee voting.

American-Born

There are 120,000 Japanese in this country, 40,000 of them aliens and 80,000 American-born who therefore are citizens.

All the Japanese, including some American citizens, who professed loyalty to Japan are segregated in the relocation center at Tule Lake, Calif.

The only exceptions to the law against permitting citizenship to foreign-born Japanese were about a dozen who were given citizenship by Congress for fighting for this country in the first World War.

KNOX REVEALS NEW ATTACKS AGAINST JAPS

Washington, April 4 (AP)—All Japanese ships caught at anchor at Palau, Woleai and Yap were sunk or damaged, by an American task force raiding those enemy bases, Secretary of the Navy Knox reported today.

Knox at a press conference said there was no way to estimate the number of ships that were caught in the anchorages. In addition to those hit in the lagoons, he said one Japanese warship was sunk "near Palau and two near Woleai."

The secretary's mention of Woleai and Yap was the first disclosure that the powerful task force hitting in Japanese Caroline island territory had struck those two points. Woleai has an unusually good anchorage. Yap, another Japanese base, has been used principally as a communications center.

Lose 27 Ships

Knox said that first reports of the strike which began March 30 and continued through April 1 indicated that our airplane losses were eight fighter planes, 11 bombers and eight torpedo bombers. There was no indication in original reports of any damage to the American warships.

The original reports from the Pacific fleet of the strike at Palau had told of Japanese ships fleeing to the westward, toward the Philippine islands, after the American task force struck with its heavy bombers and big guns.

Knox said that only meager details had been received so far because of the necessity of maintaining radio silence until the task force has completed its mission. However, he expressed belief that additional information may be forthcoming shortly.

He described as an "interesting slant" on the Palau raid, the fact that an air raid alarm was sounded in Manila.

"We don't know whether one of our planes went over Manila and threatened them or if they knew of this attack close by," the secretary said.

Evangelist Here

The Rev. and Mrs. C. S. Powers, evangelists from Illinois, will open a two-week series of special services this evening at 7:30 o'clock, at the Foursquare Gospel church. Services will be conducted each evening except Monday. The Rev. and Mrs. Powers will also present special music on accordions.

Party Leaders Meet On Special Session

Harrisburg, April 4 (AP)—Republican and Democratic party and legislative leaders came here today to hear Governor Martin's plans for simplifying Pennsylvania's soldier vote law at a special session of the legislature to be convened probably May 1.

Rival party chairmen and legislative leaders were invited by the Governor to his office in effort to assure speedy enactment of a program calling for elimination of registration requirements for military voters, allow more time for receipt and return of ballots and permit compiling of a list of prospective soldier voters by the defense council.

The State Elections bureau, meantime, predicted two-thirds of Pennsylvanians in the armed forces will cast ballots in the November General election under the liberalizations proposed by the administration.

WISCONSIN VOTE IS WILLKIE TEST

Milwaukee, April 4 (AP)—The nation watched for possible surprises as Wisconsin elected national political convention delegates today from a field pledged variously to four Republican presidential prospects.

Politicians eyed the Republican balloting chiefly as a test for Wendell Willkie—in view of his barnstorming personal effort here. Interest in the Democratic side was limited by the fact there was no preferential contest, Franklin D. Roosevelt's being the only name listed. Democrats elected 26 national delegates, Republicans 24.

Willkie alone of four Republicans represented today actually campaigned. But Governor Thomas E. Dewey's followers were aggressively active despite his disavowal; some believed Lt. Commander Harold E. Stassen of neighboring Minnesota would reveal unexpected strength; and supporters of General Douglas MacArthur, although relatively inactive, predicted a favorable showing.

In addition to the battle royal for delegates, there was a direct presidential preference ballot, but all except supporters of General MacArthur passed it up. MacArthur's name appeared at the head of the ballot. It was possible that some significance might develop in the size of the popular vote for the general.

Abbottstown

Abbottstown—Jordy Hafer and Frank Yeager, who recently received honorable discharges from the Army, have moved into the Hafer residence. Both men are former residents of this town.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Baker and family moved from the George Lillick farm to the Lester Hoover house in Abbottstown. Mr. Baker was inducted into the Army Monday.

The following young people were confirmed in Emmanuel Reformed church Sunday morning. Jean Altland, George Butt, Nila Grim, Edith Kinneman, Rhino Miller, Carolyn Shaffer. Mr. Myers was also received into membership of the church.

Dr. Grove Haines, of Syracuse university, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Haines. Dr. Haines was on his way to Philadelphia where he was to deliver a lecture.

Guy A. F. Hoke, who was Scoutmaster of the local Boy Scouts, resigned at a meeting held at the home of Merle Sanders, on Friday night. J. Faber Wildasin was appointed Scoutmaster; Milo Wolf, as assistant Scoutmaster; Merle Saunders, as chairman; Richard Hoke, treasurer; Blaine Wildasin, leader of the high patrol, and Rhino Miller, assistant; Robert Meckley, leader of the Wolf patrol; Herbert Hoke, assistant; Herbert Hoke, troop scribe and bugler.

The committee is composed of Merle Saunders, David Hoke, Earl Alwine, George Hollinger and Richard Hoke.

Prof. Fred Baker and family, of New Jersey, are spending the Easter holidays with Prof. Baker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Baker.

Washington, April 4 (AP)—The American Federation of Labor today opened the second major attack on wage controls in two weeks with an assertion that the Little Steel Formula "has become an economic thumbscrew to torment the working people of America and their families."

Secretary-Treasurer George Meany outlined the AFL's case before a War Labor board panel specially appointed to hear its demand for a "realistic modification" of the formula.

Expect Changes In Churchill Cabinet

London, April 4 (AP)—Changes in the Churchill government with Anthony Eden stepping down as foreign minister were believed near today, an announcement being expected during the Easter holidays. The most substantial speculation was that Lord Cranborne, now dominions secretary, would succeed Eden at the foreign office, but that Eden would retain his leadership in the House of Commons.

Energetic Lord Beaverbrook, who is restive in the inactive role of lord privy seal, was considered a possible selection for dominions secretary. Some quarters said the Canadian-born publisher was slated to replace Eden, but this was generally held to be quite unlikely.

Other portfolios which, it is believed, may change hands include the ministry of fuel, where Major Gwilym Lloyd George has been having strike troubles, and the agriculture ministry, where Robert Spear Hudson's price control policies have been under fire from the farmers.

If Eden quits the foreign office, his departure may be prompted by the consideration that the dual role he has been playing is too much for one man.

Approximately 95 of every 100 patients who were admitted to the venereal disease rapid treatment centers operated under the U. S. Public Health Service up to January 1944, were girls.

COUNCIL NAMES

as real estate levies are concerned or post a new bond to cover the collection of the $2,716.64 yet outstanding. At the same time he was exonerated from the bond for the collection of $1,179.20 on occupational levies but the tax payers themselves are not exonerated, it was pointed out.

These steps were necessary before the 1944 duplicate, which Mr. Dracha said will be ready by the end of next week, can be turned over to the collector. A new bond for the 1944 duplicate must be approved by the court.

Seek Sheely Advice

Burgess Fred G. Pfeffer told council the new police department setup with two new members has been satisfactory so far and that he is "pleased with the cooperation he is receiving." He said he is giving the officers special instructions and is especially directing their attention to juvenile problems. Council again discussed the possibility of getting Judge W. C. Sheely to attend a council session to talk over juvenile delinquency.

Mr. Winebrenner told council he will start street patching as soon as repairs to the borough roller are completed. He will start work next week on replacing concrete on Carlisle street where openings were made by the gas company. Council authorized the purchase of amesite for patching work on Chambersburg street.

Council authorized the semi-annual payment of $87.50 as rental for the borough dump along the Littlestown road. Council also voted a quarterly appropriation of $75 to the Blue and Gray band.

The monthly report of Burgess Pfeffer showed total collections in fines, fees and permits of $395.89 for last month with the theater tax of $382.89 as the large item on the list. The monthly report of Borough Treasurer John H. Basehore showed a balance of $11,584.13 in the general fund after bills totaling $2,801.27 for March were paid.

Council President H. M. Oyler presided at the meeting with Councilmen Harry J. Troxell, L. D. Sheeler, George D. March, Ray M. Hoffman, Harry E. Koch, Fred A. Hummelbaugh, Joseph D. Kendeheart and Vernon Corle; Burgess Pfeffer, Secretary Dracha, Mr. Basehore and Mr. Winebrenner in attendance.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Mrs. J. Marshall Cleveland, Gettysburg R. 4, and Mrs. Jesse Marshall, Thurmont, have been admitted as patients to the Warner hospital. Those discharged were Mrs. William Wetzel and infant daughter, Sandra Lee, Emmitsburg; Mrs. Paul Starner and infant son, Jimmy Paul, Gettysburg R. 3; Mrs. Sarah Rogers, Baltimore street; Mrs. Fred Riley, Gettysburg R. 3, and Mrs. Harry Stambaugh, Thurmont.

FUMES FATAL

Altoona, Pa., April 4 (AP)—Gas fumes from a cooking stove were fatal yesterday to William Williams, 65, and sent his sister, Mrs. Lillian Burns, to a hospital in a serious condition. Police said a pot boiled over on the stove, extinguishing the flame.

MOVE TO OFFSET COURT DECISION FOR NEGRO SEEN

Washington, April 4 (AP)—Speedy state action to offset a Supreme court decision upholding the right of negroes to vote in Texas Democratic primary elections was predicted today by southern legislators.

In a ruling described by the southerners as a blow to state sovereignty, but hailed in other quarters as "absolutely right," the court held Texas election officials erred in denying the vote to Lonnie E. Smith, Houston negro, because of a state party ban against members of his race participating in the 1940 Democratic primary. The court ruled, in effect, that state laws supplementing the party ban were in violation of the constitution.

The decision caused southern members of Congress to congregate in little knots at the capitol and from them came the unanimous assertion that steps would be taken to keep negroes generally out of the Democratic primaries, which are all-decisive in the south.

Other reactions—
1. Predictions that Arkansas and Alabama, which have party-imposed racial bans similar to that in Texas, may have to find other means of keeping primaries free of negro voters.

2. Senator Maybank (D-SC) said South Carolina also may have to revise its laws, since the state permits the party organization to fix all the qualifications for primary voters except age and residence. (The South Carolina Democratic state convention defeated in 1942 a resolution which would have admitted negroes to the party.)

3. A suggestion by Senator Andrews (D-Fla) that some southern states may return to the old convention system of choosing nominees.

ESCAPE from PARIS

by Marion McClure Stewart

Chapter 14
"Mademoiselle Girard, may I present Fraulein Lange, of the Women's Communication Corps, who desired to meet you," said Von Eger, bowing. "You are difficult to locate Mademoiselle. I have called several times at the apartment on the Rue de Vaugirard where you are staying, and also at the cafe, but I haven't yet been fortunate enough to discover you."

"It is not an easy life to learn one's living, Herr Kapitän," returned Adrienne smiling, relieved that her tele-a-tele with Schafer had been interrupted. "I am sorry you should have taken so much trouble for nothing."

"I am repaid now by the sight of you," he rejoined, his eyes resting on her in a way she found embarrassing. "Won't you both join us for supper at Maxims?"

"Thank you but for me it will be impossible," Adrienne returned. She sensed Schafer will ill pleased at the interruption, though he had bowed and made some casual remarks to Fraulein Lange, who was regarding her with curiosity and a veiled hostility.

"Then permit me to drive you home, Mademoiselle. My car is waiting and it will save Herr Schafer from going out of his way. Fraulein Lange and I can then go on to Maxims' later."

"If Herr Schafer has no objection, I will be glad to accept your offer," Adrienne said. "I find I am very tired. Shall we leave now?"

"If you wish," Von Eger glanced at Schafer. "I am sure Herr Schafer understands."

A minute later she had expressed her thanks and apologies to the discomfited Schafer and accompanied Von Eger and Fraulein Lange to the waiting car.

When he had given the Rue de Vaugirard address to his chauffeur, Van Eger said smiling, "I fancied you were rather bored this evening, and thought I would rescue you."

"That was a happy thought," she answered smiling, and glanced definitely at Fraulein Lange's well defined profile, coldly aloof.

"I think I have seen you somewhere in uniform, Fraulein. It must be interesting work you are doing."

"Yes, very interesting," returned Fraulein Lange. "In fact life here is a continual revelation."

She glanced with intent at Von Eger as she spoke.

Madame Dupont, cashier at the Cafe Dragon Rouge, was knitting in the living room of her small apartment on the fourth floor of an apartment house on the Rue de Vaugirard.

As her needles clicked, her thoughts were busy with the recent developments in the situation at the cafe. She was aware that the Gestapo agent, Herr Schafer, had kept a watchful eye on all that went on there, and that since the fateful day of his encounter with the American airman he had redoubled his vigilance.

What could one do? She had known Adrienne since the latter's childhood days, and having no chilman." She busied herself spreading an embroidered linen cover on the gateleg table in the living room. "I have some sardines and Camembert cheese in the larder, and here are some fresh brioches. Then I shall tuck you up on the sofa bed."

Pouring the coffee a few minutes later into a rose colored cup, she resumed, "In regard to this Fraulein Lange. Be careful of her. Those girls are sent here by the German government to spy on us in every way possible."

"I knew that," rejoined Adrienne, sipping her coffee.

as real estate levies are concerned or post a new bond to cover the collection of the $2,716.64 yet outstanding. At the same time he was exonerated from the bond for the collection of $1,179.20 on occupational levies but the tax payers themselves are not exonerated, it was pointed out.

These steps were necessary before the 1944 duplicate, which Mr. Drach said will be ready by the end of next week, can be turned over to the collector. A new bond for the 1944 duplicate must be approved by the court.

Seek Sheely Advice

Burgess Fred G. Pfeffer told council the new police department setup with two new members has been satisfactory so far, and that he is "pleased with the cooperation he is receiving." He said he is giving the officers special instructions and is especially directing their attention to juvenile problems. Council again discussed the possibility of getting Judge W. C. Sheely to attend a council session to talk over juvenile delinquency.

Mr. Winebrenner told council he will start street patrolling as soon as repairs to the borough roller are completed. He will start work next week on replacing concrete on Carlisle street where openings were made by the gas company. Council authorized the purchase of amesite for patching work on Chambersburg street.

Council authorized the semi-annual payment of $87.50 as rental for the borough dump along the Littlestown road. Council also voted a quarterly appropriation of $75 to the Blue and Gray band.

Burgess' Report The monthly report of Burgess Pfeffer showed total collections in fines, fees and permits of $395.89 for last month with the theater tax of $382.89 as the large item on the list. The monthly report of Borough Treasurer John H. Bashore showed a balance of $11,584.13 in the general fund after bills totaling $2,801.27 for March were paid.

Council President H. M. Oyler presided at the meeting with Councilmen Harry J. Troxell, L. D. Shearer, George D. March, Ray M. Hoffman, Harry E. Koch, Fred A. Hummelbaugh, Joseph D. Kendlehart and Vernon Corle; Burgess Pfeffer, Secretary Drach, Mr. Bashore and Mr. Winebrenner in attendance.

HOSPITAL REPORT Mrs. J. Marshall Cleveland, Gettysburg R. 4, and Mrs. Jesse Marshall, Thurmont, have been admitted as patients to the Warner hospital. Those discharged were Mrs. William Wetzel and infant daughter, Sandra Lee, Emmitsburg; Mrs. Paul Starner and infant son, Jimmy Paul, Gettysburg R. 3; Mrs. Sarah Rogers, Baltimore street; Mrs. Fred Riley, Gettysburg R. 3, and Mrs. Harry Stambaugh, Thurmont.

FUMES FATAL Altoona, Pa., April 4 (AP)—Gas fumes from a cooking stove were fatal yesterday to William Williams, 65, and sent his sister, Mrs. Lillian Burns, to a hospital in a serious condition. Police said a pot boiled over on the stove, extinguishing the flame.

JUDGES UNDER INVESTIGATION LOSE POWERS

Scranton, Pa., April 4 (AP)—U. S. District Judges Albert W. Johnson and Albert L. Watson, whose official conduct is under federal investigation, lost supervision of an incumbent federal grand jury today in a development which lawyers said was virtually without precedent in the federal courts.

Saying "the public interest requires the designation of another judge," Judge John Biggs, Jr., senior judge of the Third Circuit Court of Appeals, in an order, designated Judge William F. Smith of the New Jersey District court to preside specially in this Middle District of Pennsylvania.

Grand Jury Called
Judge Smith immediately ordered the grand jury reconvened at 10 a.m. Thursday.

Asked whether the jury's deliberations would have any connection with an investigation of Judges Watson and Johnson by the Judiciary committee of the House of Representatives, Judge Smith replied: "I don't know anything about the Congressional investigation and I have no comment."

The Federal Bureau of Investigation in Philadelphia and U. S. Attorney Frederick W. Follmer replied "no comment" when asked the same question.

Complaints In Congress
The judicial council of the Third Circuit, meeting in Philadelphia last December 23, requested Attorney General Francis Biddle to "make a thorough and complete investigation of the conduct of the proceedings under the bankruptcy act by the district court for the Middle District of Pennsylvania," saying "it appears . . . that there have been irregularities . . ."

A House subcommittee held closed hearings in one phase of the investigation here on March 17. Reports of judicial misconduct and favoritism in the district have been made on the floor of Congress on several occasions since 1933.

U. S. OFFERS NEW APPLE SYRUP TO USE LOST FRUIT

Cleveland, April 4 (AP)—The U. S. department of Agriculture today offered the country a new sweet, apple syrup, an amber liquid that is 65 per cent sugar.

The syrup-making starts with ordinary apple juice, and any kind of apple will do. Chemical processes remove all the apple flavors, odors and jelly-making ingredients. Remaining is a syrup which has no flavor except its extreme sweetness.

The syrup was developed in the Eastern Regional Research laboratory, at Philadelphia. It was announced to the American Chemical Society by Doctors R. E. Buch, J. J. Villaman and H. H. Mottern.

The syrup comes in two forms, one for industry, with a slightly bitter after taste which some people like, and the other all-sweet, for table use. The industrial syrup already is on the market. The table syrup is not.

Apple Honey Used
Women soon may be using the apple syrup in their cosmetics, without realizing its presence. Industrially the syrup is a good control for moisture. It has use in textile making, pharmaceuticals, cork-making and gasket paper.

Under the name of apple honey, about 5,000,000 pounds of the new syrup already has gone into cigarettes. It keeps the smokes moist and substitutes for previous moisteners which have been mostly converted into military uses.

The report said that out of America's annual apple crop of 150,000,000 bushels, about 20,000,000 go to waste.

New Army Method Of Fighting Plane Fires

Demonstrating a new method of fighting plane fires, Army firemen operating two huge tank trucks in two-and-one-half minutes completely extinguished an obsolete bomber which had been drenched with 1,000 gallons of gasoline and fuel oil and set ablaze. One truck (left) spews carbon dioxide and the other water under tremendous pressure. In just 15 seconds the cockpit area was cleared of flames. (AP Wirephoto.)

extending the borders of the Christian kingdom.

The Rev. Mr. Gresh delivered a brief sermon in which he spoke first of death and its meaning. "Death does not mean extinction," he said. "It does not stand for the end of things but rather for the opening of a door to a fuller, richer life for the children of God."

"The real gain in life comes to those who have learned to understand life as a gift of God with infinite meaning. Our departed brother had this outlook on life. He was a man successful in the affairs of business, respected and admired by all of the good citizens of his community."

"A True Father"

"He was a true father and long to be remembered by his children. He was a devoted churchman who gave many years to the work and program of his church. He was a regular attendant upon the worship services of the church and upon the last Sunday of his life he was in his accustomed place in the house of God. Now he is gone but the memory of his life always will be with us."

Limiting his remarks to a few minutes, Doctor Baker spoke of "the memory of many years of sacred fellowship (with Mr. Hartley) in the sweetest work mortals ever engaged in."

He quoted a Biblical reference to Abel of whom it was said "He being dead yet speaketh" and then suggested messages Mr. Hartley's life speaks to those who mourn his passing. "These quotations come to my mind as those Mr. Hartley's life might be saying to us: 'In quietness and confidence shall be thy strength' for the words 'quietness and confidence' express his life. He had the quietness of a pillar and a sure confidence in the things of God."

"Pursue not the assembling of yourselves together," he is saying for he was always in church to meet his God, no matter who the preacher was. His life was a Bible and not a word was blurred, not a page marred."

Prayer closed the service at the funeral home. Many joined the funeral cortege to the Evergreen cemetery where committal rites were conducted.

WESTERN HALF OF MARSHALLS HELD BY YANKS

U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, April 4 (AP)—Fourteen atolls in the central Pacific Marshall Islands, almost the entire western half, were under the American flag today.

Only Jaluit atoll remains in Japanese hands in the western half of the group, and that is surrounded. Wotje, Maloelap and Mili in the eastern string are the only important atolls still held by the enemy.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz announced yesterday that 10 more atolls had been cleared of Japanese with little or no resistance. These are Ujae, Lae, Lib, Namu, Alling-lapalap, Namorik, Ebon, Kili, Arno and Bikini.

"Most of these atolls were taken without resistance," he said. "Light opposition encountered on the others was quickly overcome. We took some prisoners."

American troops previously had taken Kwajalein, Eniwetok and Wotho in the Ralik (Sunset) chain of atolls and Majuro in the Ratak (Sunrise) chain. Majuro was taken without a fight on January 31, the same day Americans landed on Kwajalein to meet stiff opposition. Eniwetok was attacked February 17 and the unopposed occupation of Wotho was announced March 12.

American-held Majuro and Arno are adjacent atolls precisely between the two chief bases remaining in Japanese hands, Mili and Maloelap, both of which have airstrips.

Invasion of the Marshalls, which cover hundreds of square miles roughly 2,500 airline miles southwest of Hawaii, followed the bloody conquest of the Gilbert Islands immediately to the southeast. The Gilberts were secured on November 23 and on January 31 American troops

Further Decrease In Ice Cream Foreseen

Harrisburg, April 4 (AP)—A further decrease of the amount of ice cream available is likely if feed and labor shortages and scarcity of farm machinery continue, Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst says.

Speaking before the Association of Ice Cream Manufacturers of Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware, Horst said in a prepared address many large dairymen are now in a quandary about 1944 milk production due to mounting costs of labor and lower quality feed.

Horst's department announced that Governor Martin will be the principal speaker at a semi-annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Council of Farm Organizations here April 14 when some 200 officers and delegates of 40 state-wide farm groups will discuss food production problems.

JUDGES UNDER INVESTIGATION LOSE POWERS

Scranton, Pa., April 4 (AP)—U. S. District Judges Albert W. Johnson and Albert L. Watson, whose official conduct is under federal investigation, lost supervision of an incumbent federal grand jury today in a development which lawyers said was virtually without precedent in the federal courts.

Saying "the public interest requires the designation of another judge," Judge John Biggs, Jr., senior judge of the Third Circuit Court of Appeals, in an order, designated Judge William F. Smith of the New Jersey District Court to preside specially in this Middle District of Pennsylvania.

Grand Jury Called

Judge Smith immediately ordered the grand jury reconvened at 10 a.m. Thursday.

Asked whether the jury's deliberations would have any connection with an investigation of Judges Watson and Johnson by the judiciary committee of the House of Representatives, Judge Smith replied: "I don't know anything about the Congressional investigation and I have no comment."

The Federal Bureau of Investigation in Philadelphia and U. S. Attorney Frederick V. Follmer replied "no comment" when asked the same question.

Complaints in Congress

The judicial council of the Third Circuit, meeting in Philadelphia last December 28, requested Attorney General Francis Biddle to "make a thorough and complete investigation of the conduct of the proceedings under the bankruptcy act by the district court for the Middle District of Pennsylvania," saying "it appears * * * that there have been irregularities * * *"

A House subcommittee held closed hearings in one phase of the investigation here on March 17.

Reports of judicial misconduct and favoritism in the district have been made on the floor of Congress on several occasions since 1933.

U. S. OFFERS NEW APPLE SYRUP TO USE LOST FRUIT

Cleveland, April 4 (AP)—The U. S. department of Agriculture today offered the country a new sweet, apple syrup, an amber liquid that is 65 per cent sugar.

The syrup-making starts with ordinary apple juice, and any kind of apple will do. Chemical processes remove all the apple flavors, odors and jelly-making ingredients. Remaining is a syrup which has no flavor except its extreme sweetness.

The syrup was developed in the Eastern Regional Research laboratory, at Philadelphia. It was announced to the American Chemical Society by Doctors R. E. Buch, J. J. Willaman and H. H. Mottern.

The syrup comes in two forms, one for industry, with a slightly bitter after taste which some people like, and the other all-sweet, for table use. The industrial syrup already is on the market. The table syrup is not.

Apple Honey Used

Women soon may be using the apple syrup in their cosmetics, without realizing its presence. Industrially the syrup is a good control for moisture. It has uses in textile making, pharmaceuticals, cork-making and gasket paper.

Under the name of apple honey, about 5,000,000 pounds of the new syrup already has gone into cigarettes. It keeps the smokes moist and substitutes for previous moisteners which have been mostly converted into military uses.

The report said that out of America's annual apple crop of 150,000,000 bushels, about 20,000,000 go to waste.

Husband Seized

Mrs. Mary Ann Brydges Mulligan, 18, shown in a Cambridge, Mass., court where she sought to obtain release of her husband from the custody of his father, who she charged, seized him on their honeymoon. The judge refused to act pending a hearing on a petition for annulment of the marriage brought by parents of the 16-year-old youth. (AP Wirephoto.)

New Army Method Of Fighting Plane Fires

Demonstrating a new method of fighting plane fires, Army firemen operating two huge tank trucks in two-and-one-half minutes completely extinguished an obsolete bomber which had been drenched with 1,000 gallons of gasoline and fuel oil and set ablaze. One truck (left) spews carbon dioxide and the other water under tremendous pressure. In just 15 seconds the cockpit area was cleared of flames. (AP Wirephoto.)

SOLDIER VOTE ONLY

extending the borders of the Christian Kingdom."

The Rev. Mr. Gresh delivered a brief sermon in which he spoke first of death and its meaning. "Death does not mean extinction," he said. "It does not stand for the end of things but rather for the opening of a door to a fuller, richer life for the children of God."

"The real gain in life comes to those who have learned to understand life as a gift of God with infinite meaning. Our departed brother had this outlook on life. He was a man successful in the affairs of business, respected and admired by all of the good citizens of his community."

"A True Father"

"He was a true father and long to be remembered by his children. He was a devoted churchman who gave many years to the work and program of his church. He was a regular attendant upon the worship services of the church and upon the last Sunday of his life he was in his accustomed place in the house of God. Now he is gone but the memory of his life always will be with us."

Limiting his remarks to a few minutes, Doctor Baker spoke of "the memory of many years of sacred fellowship (with Mr. Hartley) in the sweetest work mortals ever engaged in."

He quoted a Biblical reference to Abel of whom it was said "He being dead yet speaketh" and then suggested messages Mr. Hartley's life speaks to those who mourn his passing. "These quotations come to my mind as those Mr. Hartley's life might be saying to us: 'In quietness and confidence shall be thy strength,' for the words 'quietness and confidence' express his life. He had the quietness of a pillar and a sure confidence in the things of God."

"Forsoke not the assembling of yourselves together," he is saying for he was always in church to meet his God, no matter who the preacher was. His life was a Bible and not a word was blurred, not a page marred."

Prayer closed the service at the funeral home. Many joined the funeral cortege to the Evergreen cemetery where committal rites were conducted.
